Hoffa Indicted On 5 Counts Of Perjury

NEW YORK (AP)—James R. Hoffa, vice-president of the Teamsters' Union, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on five counts of perjury.

The indictment charged that the 44-year-old union leader, a candidate for the presidency of the teamsters to succeed Dave Beck, lied to a grand jury during its probe into alleged wire-tapping of teamster union headquarters in Detroit.

The grand jury also indicted Benjamin Franklin Collins, secretary-treasurer of local 299, which is headed by Hoffa. It accused him of 12 counts of perjury in connection with the same investigation.

Convicts on Payroll Of Teamsters' Union?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators called for testimony today on reports that James R. Hoffa kept on a local union's payroll some teamsters officials serving prison terms for extortion.

The story, as related by committee aides, involved teamster Local 614 at Pontiac, Mich., which they said Hoffa took over as trustee.

Details of a teamsters union loan to a Minneapolis department store and of Hoffa's own interest in a horse race betting partnership were other scheduled subjects of testimony as the committee continued its investigation into activities of the Midwest teamsters boss.

Hoffa has testified he draws $5,000 to $10,000 a year from betting on horse races in partnership with Owen Bert Brennan, a Detroit teamster official. Brennan has been summoned as a witness.

Committee chairman John McClellan (Dem. Ark.) announced he has arranged for an independent doctor to check on what was tentatively diagnosed as a heart attack suffered by Benjamin Dranow, Dranow heads the John W. Thomas Department Store in Minneapolis, which allegedly received a $1,000,000 loan of teamster funds from Hoffa to help it ride out and recover from a strike by the Retail Clerks Union.

Wreck Hints Fate Of Lost B.C. Family

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (AP)—Burned wreckage of a light plane was spotted by a helicopter pilot today in Stampede Pass, along the route followed by a Duncan, B.C., family missing since May 19.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration began an immediate check to determine if the wreckage was that of the plane carrying Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wall and their eight-year-old son, Glenn.

Wall, a Duncan contractor, took off in his private plane here with his family May 19 en route to Everett on a flight home. They disappeared over the Cascades.

Prayer for today: Gracious God, come very near today to those in pain or lingering illness. May faith be strengthened to the end that health may be fully restored. And where nights are long and days full of weariness, may Thy unfailing grace comfort and sustain; through Christ, Amen.

UBCM PARLEY STARTS AT NELSON

Easier Voting Proposal By Victoria Wins Support

By PETE LOUDON
Times Staff Reporter
NELSON—This pretty mountain town, centre of the West Kootenay area, is bustling at the seams today with 620 delegates and guests to the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention. "Ten hotels are wearing 'no vacancy' signs and auto courts are filled for miles around.

Many of the 20-man Greater Victoria delegation are sharing rooms and rising early to join lineups at showers. At its session this morning the convention upheld resolutions submitted by Victoria aimed at easing civic voting regulations.

The convention agreed to ask the provincial government to amend the Municipal Act so that persons omitted in error from voters lists may have their names restored by the returning officer at the polls.

The convention also supported elimination of a regulation requiring municipalities to mail notices to tenant elector and resident electors advising they must conform voting qualification each year.

Municipal Affairs Minister Wesley Black addressing the convention said he does not accept the view that "more and more charges" should be transferred to the province from municipal budgets.

He said: "Provincial revenues, while being very large, are still not beyond our requirements, the assumption that the province can continue to absorb any amount of charges is entirely wrong."

"On any reasonable basis of comparison, the municipal taxpayers in B.C. fare much better than those of any other province, with the exception of the maritime provinces where the whole level of taxation is very much lower."

"I may say, therefore, that the government is not prepared to lightly give away the per diem charges paid by municipalities toward the operation of the hospitals."

Threat Against Queen On U.S. Visit Hinted

LONDON (UP)—The London Evening Standard said today that a British nobleman reported to Scotland Yard a plot to kill Queen Elizabeth during her North American tour next month.

Scotland Yard refused to confirm the report when asked about it by United Press.

"We never discuss security matters," a spokesman said.

The newspaper said Lady Patricia Fairweather, sister of the Earl of Incheape, heard about the threat in a conversation she overheard during a recent trip to Barcelona, Spain.

The Standard said Lady Patricia, 41, told Field Marshal Sir Gerald Templer, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, of the conversation. He immediately contacted top security officers at Scotland Yard, the newspaper said.

Top Yard officials are known to have spent some time in the United States and Canada checking on security arrangements for the Queen's visit.

Chief Superintendent Leon Burt, who usually handles Royal security, is believed to be in New York at the moment.

RCMP Men 'Punks' Sneers Gagliardi

SASKATOON (CP)—Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi of B.C. today described reports he was driving at 85 to 100 miles an hour when stopped recently by RCMP as "a pack of trash" and said the officers who flagged him down looked like "a couple of punks."

"They were coming up behind me in a Pontiac and they weren't even wearing ties. They tried to pass me on a curve. I was going about 60 miles an hour," the minister said in an interview.

Mr. Gagliardi, here to attend a Good Roads Association convention said the incident occurred last month when he was testing curves on a stretch of new B.C. highway between Savona and Kamloops.

He paid a $10 fine Sept. 10 in Kamloops.

Rescue Report False, Only Six Known Safe

(See Also Page 6)
HAMBURG, Germany (UP)—The report that the U.S. naval transport Geiger had picked up 40 more survivors from the sunken German training ship Pamir brought short-lived joy to the nation today.

In a radio message picked up by a German coastal radio station the captain of the Geiger said the only Pamir survivors he had aboard were the five rescued by the U.S. freighter Saxon and transferred to the Geiger Monday.

In addition, the U.S. Coast Guard in New York reported one of its cutters, the Absecon, picked up a lone survivor from a lifeboat drifting in mid-Atlantic, some 600 miles west of the Azores.

The five rescued by the Saxon said they knew of one other lifeboat that got away from the hurricane-stricken Pamir with about 25 men. Five other crewmen who escaped with the five survivors died or were washed overboard from the lifeboat.

Funny 't find a country as big as th' U.S. still tryin' 't decide if it's a nation.

Three Rs in Little Rock seem 't be Reelin', Riottin' an' Riflemanship.

Wonder if we shouldn't bottle this weather fer th' Centennial year

Two White Men Hurt by Troops

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Hard-eyed paratroopers, in battle dress and with bayonets at the ready, brought nine Negro students quietly into Central High School today in a new climax to the hate-filled struggle over integration in Little Rock.

One man was clubbed and another stabbed in the arm by the soldiers in fights that followed.

A few white students left the school after the Negroes entered, but there was no sign of a mass exodus. A school official said 1,250 students were in class today, making 750 absentees. It was 50 more than Tuesday when it was known the Negroes would not appear.

About two hours after the Negro students entered, the school grounds suddenly filled with students and teachers.

Reporters said they were told it was a fire drill, but there was another report that police were investigating a report of a bomb in the school.

Two Negro girls, Thelma Mothershead and Minnie Brown, came out with the white students.

Minnie Brown walked beside a blonde white student. They were talking together and laughing.

A reporter called from across the street:

"Are you making any friends, Minnie?"

"Quite a few," the girl called back, flashing a smile.

Thelma Mothershead was with one of the teachers, talking.

The white students were laughing and joking with the paratroopers as they waited on the lawn.

The students went back into the school 30 minutes after they came out. There was no definite word as to why they were sent outside.

A teacher said: "We were told it was just a fire drill."

Asking not to be identified, she said:

"The Negroes seem to be getting along very well with all the other students. There is no trouble."

She said paratroopers in the building were on hand outside the classrooms to escort the Negroes when classes changed.

In an area two blocks wide around the high school, the paratroopers kept breaking up clusters of people, moving them back, herding them onto porches and keeping the area clear.

They moved with swift, purposeful actions.

It was in these operations that the two men were injured.

C. E. Blake, 46, a railroad employee, tried to grab a paratrooper's rifle, soldiers said.

The trooper, quickly reversing it, struck Blake over the eye with the butt. He fell to the street but did not appear seriously injured.

Paul Downs, of Springfield, Ark., got a bayonet cut in the arm apparently when he was too slow obeying an order.

Jess Mathews, principal of the high school, reported "everything is calm inside the school."

Then a crowd began to congregate a full block from the school.

People gathered on a lawn, flowed over into the sidewalk, and were standing six and eight deep down the street. A youth in a pink shirt jeered: "Why don't you tin soldiers go home."

Maj. James Meyer suddenly picked up the speaker on the public address system of a mobile transmitter unit.

"You are again instructed to go to your homes peacefully," he said. "Disperse and return to your homes."

Then the Negroes mounted the steps and went inside. It was all over in an instant.

The only excitement now, by contrast to the wild riot that broke out Monday when the Negroes went through a side door, came from the scurrying of scores of reporters and cameramen, trying to get near the scene.

Paratroopers kept yelling "Back . . . back on the sidewalk." And they enforced it as they had done with the bystanders earlier.

The two incidents in which Blake and Downs were injured took place later.

The soldiers had everything under such iron control that there appeared to be no room for a major incident.

Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, the commander of the troops, addressed the whole student body.

He said "I intend to use all means necessary to prevent any interference with the execution."

160 Taken Off Grounded Ship

LISBON, Portugal (Reuters)—The British liner Hildebrand ran aground near Cascais on the Portuguese coast today and its 160 passengers were taken off.

The 7,735-ton liner was said to be listing dangerously.

Again, without hurrying, they never before has been taken in the integration struggle.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the senate southern bloc, assailed the use of troops as "totalitarian." He predicted the president's order will have "a calamitous effect on race relations and on the cause of national unity."

A number of southern governors and political leaders, including so-called "moderates," expressed grave concern over the use of federal troops. Some denounced it as dictatorship.

Others expressed the view that Eisenhower had to send in the troops to prevent future defiance of the courts.

If Eisenhower was disturbed by the southern criticism he gave no outward sign during his 13-minute speech, delivered in a solemn and unsmiling manner.

In measured tones he outlined the seriousness of the Little Rock situation and said unless he acted "anarchy would result."

Castigating the crowds that blocked Negro attendance at school as "disorderly mobs" by "demagogic extremists," the president declared:

"Mob rule cannot be allowed to override the decisions of the courts."

Eisenhower asserted the federal troops are not being used

Safeguards Demanded After Pipeline Blasts

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE—Three explosions in six days on the Manitoba section of the trans-Canada gas pipe line brought demands Tuesday for added safety measures.

The third explosion on the newly-laid pipeline was blamed by a company spokesman Tuesday on the pipe coming apart at the seams while being tested with natural gas under pressure.

The same cause was given for the previous blasts.

No gas is yet being distributed to Manitoba consumers.

Imperial Oil Limited is seeking in an appeal before the Exchequer Court of Canada a refund of $19,000,000 on income tax payments in the years 1951, 1952, and 1953.

The paper says the appeal is based on Imperial's claim for higher allowances in those years for depletion allowances granted all extraction industries.

"By forcing the oil companies to lump together their good producers along with their 'dry-hole' wells to arrive at the depletion figure, the large oil companies maintain, the tax legislation discriminates against producers who engage in extensive exploration for new wells, the Star says.

The story adds should Imperial win its case, "the total amount of tax rebates claimed from all sections of Canada's mushrooming oil industry could come to $100,000,000."

Minister Against Subsidized Teachers

Subsidized teacher training is not the best solution to the teacher shortage problem, in the opinion of Education Minister Leslie Peterson.

"If we fully subsidized teacher training we might get more students but I doubt if they would all be desirable additions to the profession," the minister told the B.C. School Trustees' Association convention Tuesday.

He was commenting on a financial assistance plan put forward by the trustees' teacher recruitment committee. Under this plan financial assistance would be shared by the provincial government and school boards.

"Last year," said the minister, "we gave $285,000 in student loans and bursaries. We would like to give enough money so anyone who wants to train as a teacher would not be denied the chance."

From outside, the school appeared completely quiet.

There were no parents this time, nor any adults, trying to get through the line of soldiers.

People in Little Rock with children who attend the school said there appeared to be an organized campaign Tuesday night to keep as many as possible from going there today.

"I had a half dozen calls from people telling me not to show up today," a student said. "I told them I did not know what I would do."

"They said: 'There's going to be trouble. It won't be safe there today.'"

The student, a girl, said she understood some of her friends were going to wait until noon and then, depending on the situation, go to school in the afternoon.

It was supremely quiet.

But among the people nearby—many of whom had been dispersed by the troops—was heard, over and over again:

"Let 'em do what they want now."

44 CNR Cars Derailed

JASMIN, Sask. (CP)—Forty-four cars of an 86-car west-bound Canadian National Railways freight train travelling 50 miles an hour were derailed Tuesday night on the railway's main line at this town about 140 miles south-east of Saskatoon. All members of the train crew escaped without injury.

At present, in effect, these costs are carried entirely by the school boards.

ELECT OFFICERS

Lorne C. Aggett, Vancouver was elected president of the School Trustees' Association in succession to A. W. Mercer of New Westminster.

P. M. Hopkins, Kitimat, was elected vice-president; Mrs. Marion Ricker, Nanaimo, was re-elected second vice-president, and Paul Rising, Vancouver was re-appointed auditor.

Honorary officers are Education Minister Peterson and Dr. W. B. McKechnie, Armstrong.

Delegates chose Kamloops as the site of the 1958 convention.

JASMIN, Sask. (CP)—Forty-four cars of an 86-car west-bound Canadian National Railways freight train travelling 50 miles an hour were derailed Tuesday night on the railway's main line at this town about 140 miles south-east of Saskatoon. All members of the train crew escaped without injury.

He told the students that neither they nor anyone else had anything to fear from his troops.

From outside, the school appeared completely quiet.

There were no parents this time, nor any adults, trying to get through the line of soldiers.

People in Little Rock with children who attend the school said there appeared to be an organized campaign Tuesday night to keep as many as possible from going there today.

"I had a half dozen calls from people telling me not to show up today," a student said. "I told them I did not know what I would do."

"They said: 'There's going to be trouble. It won't be safe there today.'"

"relieve local and state authorities of their primary duty to preserve peace and order." He said they are in Little Rock solely to prevent interference with the integration orders issued by federal judge Ronald N. Davies.

He did not refer to Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus who blocked school integration in Little Rock three weeks ago by ordering out the National Guard. But he said:

"Under the leadership of demagogic extremists, disorderly mobs have deliberately prevented the carrying out of proper orders from a federal court. Local authorities have not eliminated that violent opposition . . ."

Eisenhower, who said in July he couldn't imagine any circumstances in which he would use troops to protect civil rights, told the

World Opinion Stirred by U.S. Racial Strife

LONDON (AP)—The Little Rock integration story was front page news under big headlines in European newspapers today. Communist newspapers seized upon the story for barbed attacks on the United States.

A Moscow newspaper, Soviet Russia, says "Little Rock disclosed the true face of democracy in America."

The Communist youth paper, Komsomol Pravda, gives two front page columns to a report of what it called "terrible deeds of white racists" and said these followed "so many beautiful words about freedom of the people in America."

FRANCE CRITICAL

In France, U.S. prestige and popularity was believed to be taking its severest nose dive since the Suez crisis.

The non-Communist, leftwing Franc-Tireur says President Eisenhower has seen "his authority overturned and the law made an object of division." The extreme rightwing Aurore comments: "A Lincoln, a Roosevelt or a Truman would never have tolerated it. Eisenhower no longer permits it... but during the time he took to think it over, didn't Eisenhower think how Communist propaganda would profit from these events?"

The trouble was told in stories prominently displayed in the press of Italy, The Netherlands, West Germany and Austria. Pictures of Little Rock mob scenes were widely used.

ROME COMMENTS

"I Paese, a leftist, pro-Communist paper in Rome, says: 'At last Eisenhower acted to impose respect of the Negroes' equality.'"

In Britain, the Socialist press heaped scorn on Eisenhower, Governor Orval Faubus of Arkansas and Little Rock segregation leaders.

London's Liberal News Chronicle—Eisenhower "is not merely making clear his support for the Supreme Court ruling; he is acting, as he must, to uphold the constitution."

The Conservative Daily Telegraph—"The use of troops 'would be fraught with grave consequences for the American union.' But it added: 'The great majority of Southerners are reasonable men. Immense progress already has been made in carrying out the Supreme Court's integration ruling.'"

Runabout Bumps 11-Year-Old

LANGFORD — First case in this area of a speedboat hitting a swimmer occurred on Monday when Lynne Drury, 11, of 1189 Goldstream Road, was struck by an outboard runabout at Langford Lake.

The boat was moving slowly, according to John Drury, father of the victim, and she suffered only a "bump."

Although he is not against speedboats operating on the lake, Mr. Drury said high-speed driving should be confined to the middle of the lake.

"Young fellows come charging around near the edges, trying to see how close they can come to each other and showing off to girls on the wharves," he said.

'I Remember Nothing' Says Murder Suspect

VANCOUVER (CP)—A murder suspect testified in Assize Court he remembered nothing of the death of an elderly Chinese grocer beyond picking up a can when the man "started to holler."

Two city detectives testified earlier Tuesday that Calvin Henry Klingbell, 23, had told them he had hit Lee Yick Yung, 63, with the can, stabbed him and then choked him.

Klingbell testified he had gone to the West Broadway store, owned by Lee, on the morning of May 18 to rob the grocer.

"I went to the store. I don't know—I think I asked the man for money. He started to holler. I picked up a can—I don't know, that's the last thing I remember."

"I got the blood all on me when I choked him."

Glib Tongue Yields $172,000 to Con Man

LONDON (Reuters)—Brynar James Owen, 61, was a confidence man, and a good one.

When a judge sent him for psychiatric treatment, the silver-tongued Welshman talked his psychiatrist out of $3,000 for a chain of psychiatric centres.

Altogether, Owen collected $172,000 from innocent investors. In Court—Tuesday, where he was sentenced to 3½ years for obtaining $4,600 by fraud, witnesses told of his latest scheme, a "cancer-proof" cigarette.

The glib promoter was serving the last six months of a previous conviction for fraud and was allowed to work outside the prison walls. Each night, before returning to jail, Owen stopped at a tavern and boasted about his cigarette. Listeners invested $2,800 in it. One investor was a prison

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—King Saud is believed to be carrying to Damascus today a plan for lessening world tension over troubled Syria.

The monarch left by air from Rome in a private plane for a three-day state visit to Syria. He has been on a vacation in Europe.

Diplomatic circles here believe Saud will first try to patch up the bitter quarrel raging between Syria and Egypt and their three Arab neighbors—Jordan, Iraq and Lebanon.

Import Controls On Skim Milk Powder

OTTAWA (BUP)—The government has placed imports of skim milk powder under import control, Agriculture Minister Harkness announced.

"In order to protect Canadian producers from the danger of the market being swamped by large supplies of imported milk powder the government has acted to apply control," Harkness said.

The price of skim milk powder in Canada has been supported at 17 cents per pound.

Rail Freight Boost Hinted In Hearing

OTTAWA (BUP)—Increased railroad freight rates loomed as a possibility for Canada today as the board of transport commissioners resumed their hearings on rate increase applications by the Railroad Association of Canada.

The association, in an amended application, has asked for an increase of an additional 10 per cent. The board scheduled today's hearings to consider the original application made last May by the Railroad Association asking for a rate hike of 15 per cent.

In the meantime, an interim rate increase of 11 per cent on the original request was granted. If the association's latest request goes through freight rate increases will total 21 per cent since last May. If not, the board then will reconsider the remaining four per cent of the original request which was not covered by the interim boost.

The western provinces and the maritimes would be hardest hit in the event the new application is approved. Increases granted on the basis of the percentage that may be added to the maximum freight rates. The full increases are generally put into effect in the west and the Atlantic provinces.

Traveling the Same Road

DR. NORMAN MacKENZIE, president of the University of British Columbia, has endorsed the idea of an eventual liberal arts degree-granting status for Victoria College.

At the same time he has urged people of this community not to attempt to duplicate the expensive professional courses in operation at the university.

The announcement of his position on the question indicates general agreement on the plan for a bigger Victoria College empowered to grant degrees in certain fields. His stand is realistic.

It appears now that everyone favors such a development. The questions remaining are those of timing and financing.

As far as timing is concerned, action should be taken now to acquire sufficient property for a college big enough to accommodate a student body ranging from 2,500 to 3,000 in the years ahead.

Such a college should be designed to cater not only to the local and Lower Island population. It should have facilities adequate to meet province-wide needs in the particular faculties for which it is suitable. There are many amenities in this community which make it ideal as a university town. Their appeal doubtless will be apparent to centres whose students will have to board away from home while working toward their degrees—that is, to residents of towns some distance from Vancouver.

This need not place the Victoria College of the future in competition with the university in those fields for which the college would be suitable. Rather would the two institutions be complementary. As such, the degrees granted here could remain University of British Columbia degrees.

The close co-ordination which has existed between the local institution and UBC—with highly beneficial results to both—should be preserved. Development of both Victoria College and the University of British Columbia will, of course, hinge on finances available for expansion. In this matter the University has every reason for concern.

Point Grey has been and is being starved for funds. One of the great universities of Canada, both in student body and academic stature, has too many of its important departments housed in shacks. The wonder is that the university can do such excellent work under the physical conditions to which it is subjected.

Victorians concerned chiefly with the expansion of their own college can appreciate the position in which the university is placed. They will understand, and doubtless wish for the success of, current efforts made to enlist private support—to be matched equally by the Government—for development work at Vancouver.

At the same time, and looking further to the future, they must take cognizance of the fact that the time will arrive when the university grows too big. If Victoria is in a position to relieve the pressure of a heavy provincial student population bearing down on Point Grey, the university stands to benefit.

Dr. MacKenzie's statement has done much to clear the air insofar as potential conflict of interest seemed to be rising between Victoria and Vancouver. Interested persons here and in Vancouver are traveling the same road. They are seeking to advance the opportunities for our young men and women, as well as those from points outside the province, to obtain higher education.

They can travel that road in harmony, retaining the affiliations which have been advantageous to both in the past. That is the way they should travel. No useful purpose would be served by creating animosities among those aiming at the same broad objectives.

Peiping's New Tactic

PEIPING HAS BEEN QUICK TO recognize the now independent Government of Malaya, but it is a gesture which the new member of the Commonwealth does not plan to return.

The significance of the Red Chinese move lies in the new approach to Communist advancement which now is being urged in Asia. This development has been most clearly seen in Indonesia, and no doubt the Chinese Communists hope eventually to extend it to Malaya.

In Indonesia the Communists have found legal means to make their presence felt in the Government. More important, their propaganda has played down Marxist doctrines and has concentrated instead on anti-Western nationalism and social reform.

They have used President Sukarno and his "guided democracy" policy as a basis for immediate progress, hoping at some time in the future, when the Communist grasp is strengthened, to implement more revolutionary principles.

In Malaya the more primitive type of Communist revolution has heretofore been in force. The leftist rebels have carried on a shooting war for the past few years—a war which has not yet ended. It has, however, been fought to a current standstill, with the rebels driven into remote jungle villages where their influence on the rest of the country is severely restricted.

Red China would like to see the emphasis in Malaya changed to the Indonesian type of struggle, with political in-fighting rather than guerrilla skirmishes. In line with this policy, Peiping is expected to try to foster internal opposition to certain phases of Malayan life.

The targets would be Western ownership of Malaya's large tin and rubber industry, the presence of Commonwealth troops, and other aspects likely to stir intense nationalistic elements.

At the moment, however, Malaya's new freedom is not a hopeful environment for Red Chinese interference. Winning that independence has been a long process. Its preservation will be no less the concern of all Malaysians.

A Touch of Immortality

AT THE MOMENT BRITISH conductor Sir Malcolm Sargent raised his baton to conduct Sibelius' Fifth Symphony in Helsinki's Concert Hall last week, Jean Sibelius died at his Finnish home.

The incident seems symbolic. Finland's great composer is dead, but his music lives on. The man who possessed unusual vigor up to his 91st year had achieved a measure of immortality through his works when he was half that age. He had lived a full life devoted to the compelling urge to compose. He had found recognition, and high recognition, among his own people and among music lovers throughout the world.

The world of men records the passing of another great figure. His influence remains vibrant and inspiring as long as men find emotional satisfaction and enjoyment from the great contributions he made to music.

Speedboats and Children

A YOUNG GIRL SWIMMING IN Langford Lake has been hit by a speedboat travelling close to shore and her father has understandably denounced boat operators who come "charging around near the edge."

Fortunately the boat was proceeding slowly. The girl was bumped, not seriously injured.

The incident does, however, draw sharp attention to the danger created by high-speed craft sweeping in close to shore where children and others may be swimming and unable to get out of the way.

There have been relatively few complaints during the summer of heedless operation of such boats. Most objections raised to them have been on the grounds of nuisance rather than extreme hazard. But the danger remains.

It is particularly noticeable when such craft are entrusted to children so immature that they presumably do not understand the risks they inflict on others when they "show off" in the boats their parents have bought.

The practice some follow of "buzzing" canoes or very small skiffs has caused considerable concern. Perhaps, in addition to warning adults who are heedless in the use of speedboats, the time may have come when children should be governed by regulations similar to those imposed on juvenile boat drivers. A law restricting juvenile boat driving to children accompanied by a responsible adult might be in order.

Viewing With Alarm

EVERY day brings us fresh evidence of the benefits of science. The boys in the laboratories are making life wonderful for us. No human task is too easy, no human burden too light, no human vexation so slight that the men of test-tubes and slide rules will not labor for still further improvement.

Tobin

Cars that are made super-luxurious, homes that are made comfortable, cold drinks are made colder, hot music hotter, and medium things are made more medium than ever they were before. We live in a wonderful age.

The speed of our progress is so great, in fact, that many of our accomplishments they don't get the credit they should. They're superseded almost before they're completed.

Some firm in England, for example, has come out with a plane that will travel 1,500 miles an hour and climb 10 miles in a minute. You'd think the RAF would be a likely customer for such a craft. But they won't touch it. They figure it's obsolete already.

For Comfort

The big things—the power plants, the atomic piles, the jet engines, the skyscrapers and mile-long bridges—are spectacular achievements. But it's in the little accomplishments for man's comfort that science really makes its impression on most of humanity.

Take a small item like the new electric clock-radio you see advertised. An alarm clock used to make a noise, wake you up, and that was that. But the scientists figured this was a pretty crude effort.

They fixed it so the preliminary noise was soft, to be followed by a more authoritative jangle. Then they added music. But that was still too rough for some sensibilities. Awakening to the world, even a world mastered by science, was deemed to be sufficiently harrowing to demand the best the experts could give.

So the boys in the back room produced an awakening that even mother couldn't improve on.

In Stages

First there's some music, then a gentle but insistent alarm. You turn this off and go back to sleep. Seven minutes later the alarm nudges you again. You turn it off again. Later it rings again. You... Yes that's right.

The alarm calls you five times, the advertisements say. After the fifth time you're allowed to sleep in peace. A scientific device on the mechanism ensures that you won't be bothered again.

You can sleep until (a) the phone rings; (b) starvation forces you out; (c) members of the family announce that lunch is ready; (d) you suddenly think good lord what time is it.

The genius of the whole thing is obvious. Here at great expense and with enormous technical skill, man has produced a waking-up instrument that is almost as good as nothing at all.

And you can be sure that the gap will soon be closed. Almost before the new gadget is in the stores, science will come up with an alarm that doesn't ever ring—some very loud alarm that is welded in the "off" position before it leaves the factory and hence is rendered harmless right from the start.

Trust home sapiens to lick this problem, even if he has to get up early in the morning to do it.

End Product

The new device is particularly interesting because the technicians have so obviously co-operated with the psychologists in producing it. What other creature in the world but man could, or would, expend money on a machine to perform a job, knowing that he was not going to allow the machine to do that job?

Would an orang-outang perfect a coconut that had no meat or milk? Would a bee design a flower that gave no nectar? Would a termite invent a log that would not be tunneled into? Would a horse grow a field of plastic grass?

Only to man, the highest form of creation, has been given the genius to develop a warning alarm that he intends to ignore. Those of you who have been ignoring alarm clocks for years—perhaps for a whole lifetime—will appreciate the significance of such a gift.

Nothing New

Setting alarms which we plan to disobey is a human trait that is not confined to bedside gadgets. We have been doing it one way or another since the dawn of civilization.

We build cities beside volcanoes, towns under dams, metropolises on major faults in the earth's crust, communities in the regular track of hurricanes.

We speed through stop signs and red lights, instal turn indicators we don't bother to use, paint white centre lines and then drive over them. From going on picnics when the forecast says rain, to sending air liners aloft in the face of storm warnings, we love to make the rules and then break them.

Perhaps the hydrogen-bomb is our supreme achievement in this regard. We all know what will happen if we keep on. So we turn off the warning, the down the safety valve—and keep on.

As Our Readers See It

Know More—Know Less?

One of the finest results of the recent federal election has been the show of good sportsmanship by winner and loser alike.

This sensible attitude has been marred recently in your letters to the editor column featuring bitter attacks on Mr. St. Laurent and Mr. Pearson. Obviously the correspondent concerned did not know that the recently appointed minister of foreign affairs has been reported as being in agreement with the Canadian stand on Suez as would anyone who had some knowledge of the stupendous follies that led to that unfortunate affair.

Both Mr. St. Laurent and Mr. Pearson have given fine leadership and both are honorable men. Doubtless had Britain come under direct military attack they would have been prompt in aiding her. But to suggest that they should sit silently or even praise Britain for actions which they felt could embroil the world in a hydrogen war is to suggest that a man should lay aside his honor for a friend, a precedent unheard of in any responsible code of ethics.

I can only conclude that your correspondents either know something that I don't, don't know as much, or just don't like Mr. St. Laurent or Mr. Pearson.

Rat Race

There can be no question but that prices are going up because wages have gone up and costs of production and distribution, due to wages, are higher. The price wage race has been with us for years.

When will unions realize that they are in the rat race of inflation and accept the responsibility for it? Inflation has fed on itself, pay raises are generally eaten up by higher prices, the answer each time has been still higher pay to be followed by further price increases.

Thousands of citizens are wanting repairs and work done on their homes, etc., and simply cannot afford to pay union wages to tradesmen; they either do the work themselves or employ non-union workers who are willing to work for reasonable pay.

Industry generally is hard hit from all sides. Raw materials, freight rates, taxes, wages, etc., all up, higher wages entering into every facet, the most recent local example being milk distribution where internationally unionized milk farmers actually make more than the farmer producing the milk and threaten an increase in price to the consumer.

None of the Federal or Provincial Governments are doing anything worth while to arrest the vicious trend which is causing untold worry and hardship to so many who live in our so called democracy.

FRANK H. PARTRIDGE,
1604 Belmont Avenue.

Service Costs

In the field of social welfare the Citizen Research Institute of Canada was very much impressed by the scope and quality of the welfare services provided by both Victoria and Saanich. In particular it praised the permanent officials for their efficiency and general ability. It was pointed out that Victoria had the largest social welfare problem as would be expected. Oak Bay, Esquimalt, and Saanich have much less of a burden in this field. The figures for 1956 verify this.

Victoria spent about $520,000 for social welfare. However, the province paid most of this leaving to Victoria a net cost of about $180,000 or a net per capita cost of just over $3.

In 1956 social welfare cost Saanich about $150,000 of which the province pays 80 per cent. Thus the net cost to Saanich is around $35,000 or a net per capita cost of less than $1. Saanich paid another $70,000 for welfare as well but this sum was recovered from various other municipalities so is not counted for this comparison. Thus, as things stand, Saanich is in a relatively happy position as far as social welfare is concerned.

The administration of justice is already pooled to a large extent. Most justice facilities are shared by the four municipalities with costs assessed on a use basis. In 1954 the cost per $10,000 of assessment worked out in round figures at $2.2 for Victoria and $2.9 for Saanich. These figures will probably vary from year to year.

Other services such as public works, planning, and street lighting, could be compared as to costs and extent.

But the ones given should at least show the trend of spending as far as Victoria and Saanich are concerned. Of course not everything should be judged by immediate cost, very important as it is. But in any form of amalgamation costs would have to be gone into fully and by experts who can talk citizen's language.

HAROLD TODD.

Nationalization

Mr. Pepper in your issue of Sept. 20 claims "there is no class distinction in society today, and only a broader nationalization as advocated by the CCF will solve our problems."

The first thing Mr. Pepper and the CCF have to learn is that in present day society a very small percentage own and control all the means and instruments for producing wealth. Hence they own all the goods the workers produce.

On the other hand the great majority, the workers, can only live by selling their labor power to the capitalist, out of which they make their profits. There is the basis of a class society and no wishful thinking on the part of Mr. Pepper or his CCF friends can alter that fact.

The history of nationalization has proven beyond a doubt, that instead of benefiting the workers, it exploits them in a more intense form than ever before. The Labor Government of Great Britain denied workers in nationalized industries the right to strike, and blackballed those who dared to organize an illegal strike.

Take Russia where the whole economy is nationalized, strikes are prohibited and slave camps await those who dare to protest. This provides a shining example of what to expect when the CCF obtains power. The only function of nationalization is to give greater security to the capitalist class.

Mr. Khrushchev Gets Tough

SOMETIMES it is instructive to compare the hopes of the past with the realities of the present. Last July 4, when Nikita Khrushchev purged his Stalinist colleagues in the Kremlin, the New York Times described the mood of the capital as one of "gleeful speculation."

The burden of this gleeful speculation was that Khrushchev had "won a smashing victory for his new look policies of easing tensions at home and abroad." This hopeful interpretation of the Soviet purge seemed reasonable enough. The main charge against the "anti-party group" was that they had "opposed the Leninist policy of peaceful co-existence... and friendly relations."

Certainly the departure of the stony-faced Molotov from the seats of Soviet power seemed an augury of better times to come. Yet what has happened since?

What has happened is that Soviet foreign policy has been tougher and more aggressive than at any time since Stalin's death. Very shortly after Khrushchev's triumph the Soviets made it crystal clear that they were no longer interested in negotiating seriously on disarmament.

Since then the Soviets have talked and acted in a manner worthy of Molotov at his nastiest.

Tough Record

There have been, to name only a few examples, the very tough note to the Adenauer government, the even tougher note to Turkey, the charge that the United States was fomenting war in the Middle East, the threatening Gromyko interview, a series of fist-shaking Pravda editorials, and the deliberately menacing tone of the announcement of the Soviet test of a long range ballistic missile.

The new tough line has not been confined to talk, moreover. The dispatch of Soviet cruisers and submarines to the Mediterranean was clearly meant to underline the tough words.

In recent weeks the number of U.S. Navy contacts with Soviet submarines in or near American waters has also sharply increased.

Altogether, among those who are paid to think about such things, there is no longer the slightest doubt that Khrushchev, immediately after his triumph, deliberately decided to get tough with the West.

All sorts of possible reasons are cited to explain this Khrushchev decision, from the newly powerful influence of Marshal Zhukoff to the need to disabuse the West of any notion that the Kremlin purge was a symptom of Soviet weakness. But Khrushchev is now undoubtedly the supreme shaper of Soviet policy, and therefore a good part of the explanation surely lies in the character of Khrushchev himself.

Everyone who has had contact with Khrushchev has carried away one clear impression—that he is a gambler, a man willing and even eager to take great risks. He is also a true believer, a man who genuinely believes in the Marxist doctrine of the inherent weakness and inevitable collapse of the capitalist world.

One of his most striking characteristics, moreover, is a peasant's delighted pride in the technical achievements of Russian science.

In 1955, when the Soviets first displayed their long range Bison jet bomber at the Red Air Force Day show, one of the American air attaches trained his binoculars on the reviewing stand. He saw Khrushchev jumping up and down with joy, grinning and thumping the staid Bulganin on the back.

New Toys

Since then Khrushchev has again and again displayed this almost childlike pleasure in the shiny new toys with which the able Soviet scientists have provided the Soviet state. On his visit to England in 1956, for example, he boasted again and again of Soviet achievements in aircraft, in missiles, and in nuclear power.

Repeatedly in recent months, in notes to Britain, France, West Germany, Turkey and Norway, the new Soviet missile capability has been emphasized threateningly.

The notes were signed, for the most part, by Bulganin. But the real originator was undoubtedly Khrushchev. And the Soviet ICBM announcement, with its implied threat to the United States, was probably written by Khrushchev, and was certainly approved by him.

Consider how the world scene must look to this man, especially now that his scientists have given him, in the ICBM, the shiniest and most murderous of new toys.

Gambler's Instinct

He sees the West, led by the United States, unilaterally disarming. With his gambler's instinct, and his doctrinal conviction that the West is doomed anyway, this must seem to him no time for negotiation and accommodation. It must seem to him, rather, a time to press forward boldly, and to take big risks, in order to hasten the West's inevitable doom.

This seems, at least, a reasonable partial interpretation of the increasingly tough and aggressive tone of Soviet policy, ever since the event which caused such gleeful speculation in Washington less than three months ago. (1957, N.Y. Herald Tribune Inc.)

Dag's Job Tricky

NEW YORK—Mr. Dag Hammarskjöld, the Secretary-General of the United Nations, has many qualities that make him a good man for his very tricky job—but, as has been pointed out on many occasions, he has his shortcomings, too.

The most serious of these is in the matter of expressing himself in public—or, to be more accurate, of not expressing himself.

On Sept. 2 the Secretary-General sent a message to a UN group meeting in Geneva, in which he said:

"The events through which we have lived (in the past year) have awakened a fresh interest in the possibilities of international action. They have also led to a more accurate appreciation of the realities of the position of the organization in world politics."

"This reappraisal presents us with a challenge of some moment. For it has led to an increased demand for information on how the United Nations operates and an increased desire for understanding of what can and what cannot be accomplished through its machinery. Unless this demand and desire can be met, we risk the danger of easy judgments based on incomplete knowledge or indifference, obscuring our essential aims. For the organization adequately to perform its tasks, public opinion everywhere should understand the actions taken by the United Nations organs."

Well spoken, sir.

But does the Secretary-General practice what he preaches? For an answer to that it is interesting to record, without comment, some of the more illuminating passages from Mr. Hammarskjöld's latest press conference.

His opening words were these: "I must say that, in thinking over this press conference in advance, I felt that there was so little that could usefully be discussed that it might be a good idea to postpone the conference. I think, however, that you share my view that it is wise to try and maintain a pattern so that all of us may know what the plans are. For that reason, here we are—and it is up to you to give to this little meeting the content which you find possible."

Question: Would any useful purpose be served by your going to Hungary to look over the situation?

Answer: For me, the question remains open. The problem whether or not a useful purpose would be served is, I think, raised a little bit too early. Let us first see what comes out of the debate in the General Assembly.

Question: Do you think it would be feasible to discuss an agreement to limit the supply of arms to various countries in the Middle East?

Answer: "I should not like to go into the last part of that question; it brings us a little bit into territory that is too adventurous."

Question: Would you care to indicate what you expect the next move in the Middle East to be?

Answer: "... At the present stage it is natural that we, with a completely open mind, try to see where there seems to be a road between the trees in the wood and to take the best road, which we can find, when we reach the stage where we can count on further progress."

A question about the right of free passage through the Suez Canal brought the response that the legal issue involved could be left aside for the moment; a question about the Syrian crisis was answered with: "I have no comment."

Then: "Are you satisfied with the manner in which Egypt is handling the Suez Canal?"

Answer: "What interest is attached to my satisfaction or lack of satisfaction? I think the record is a public one and everybody has the right to have his own views on how it has worked out."

The questioner said he had raised the point because Mr. Hammarskjöld took a very active role in settling that issue. The reply: "I still take a very active interest in it, but perhaps because of that very fact I feel that this is one of the many fields in which it does not make much sense to me to come out with any evaluation or judgment of this kind."

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

All-Male Enterprise

LONDON—Some of Britain's top scientists and engineers met recently and one of the delegates to the convention, a woman engineer named Constance Arreger, complained that in this man's world women are not given enough encouragement to enter into the work of scientific development.

This has brought forth an interesting comment from scientific writer Chapman Pincher. Women are forever complaining they have never been given a chance to show what they can do, he says. But look at the atoms.

"A special college where scientists and engineers can be trained in the techniques of atomic power has been operating at Harwell for more than two years," he continues. "No woman has yet attended the courses—while more than 250 men have qualified there."

"WOMEN HAVE complained that men have ruined the world by turning the atom to destruction. Here is their great chance to step in when the atom is being turned to constructive use. Yet the women are letting this chance go by default."

"The Harwell authorities assure me they would welcome any woman of proven ability. It is talent we are after, whether it wears skirts or trousers. But, as with the building of the great cathedrals, as with the steam age, and the age of electricity, the age of the atom is so far an all-male enterprise."

Reyburn

And Pincher concludes: "The indictment that women lack the initiative, confidence and competence to take part in this pioneering field is inescapable."

The comment is just enough, I suppose, except that in listing the various "ages" he left out the age of radium.

BILLY BUNTER, that hardy perennial among heroes of schoolboy fiction, has broken out in a new place. Eighty-year-old Frank Richards, who evolved Bunter and his chums at Greyfriars School exactly 50 years ago and sees them as popular today as they ever were, is embarking on a new series of stories about them—in Latin.

The series is to be called Bunterus in Schollis and the author's idea is that schoolboys would much prefer translating "I say, you chaps," than "All Gaul is divided into three parts."

But this plan of making Latin translation more interesting for boys has pitfalls. Richards' progress on the series is slow because of the difficulty of finding the Latin equivalent of such things as "jam tart."

A story titled The Missing Jam Tart has to become Placenta Amissa because the Latin for "cake" is the nearest Richards can get to the jam tarts that are such a favorite with English schoolboys.

GREAT EXCITEMENT around the theatre ticket agencies. Tickets for the smash musical show My Fair Lady have gone on sale. And they're going like hot-cakes, despite the long-term project of buying them. The show doesn't open here until April 30, 1958.

PRIVATE BILL TO ASK VICTORIA CITY CHARTER

Ald. Donald Smith said Tuesday he will seek council's support for a private bill requesting the granting to Victoria of a city charter.

Victoria at present is governed by the Municipal Act.

"A charter," he said, "would save a great deal of time and money and would give council the right to delegate authority to department heads for immediate action."

October Busy Month If Weather Holds

It seems to me that October promises to be just as busy as September, especially if the weather holds mild.

The largest job confronting me is that of a perennial border now so overgrown scarcely anything has flowered in it since spring.

Being very human, I have certain small treasures tucked into the raised edge of the border, and these will have to be removed either to flats or to a temporary heeling in place.

Such plants as Centaurea acaulis, Sedum arachnoideum (the cobweb houseleek), Jasione perennis (sheep's scabious), a saxifrage or two and Sedum spectabile, a showy fall flowering sedum are among the things to be saved.

Packing fairly closely together in flats seems to me the best way to handle these, since they are all small plants. Then if cold weather catches me with them unplanted, they can go under canvas where I can keep my eye on them.

The ones to be consigned to the hungry compost heap (we have several) will be handled with less care. Some, like the old roots of the single shasta daisy and Siberian iris will need a mattock to move them.

Small Charity Fund-Raising Curb Sought

The Independent Merchants Co-op Association has asked the City Council to curb some of the smaller charity fund-raising drives in Victoria on the grounds that they are affecting business.

William Palmer, president, protested against charity organizations which sell apples, oranges, light bulbs, cookies and Easter eggs on a door-to-door basis.

He noted that city council had increased the business tax to many merchants and asked "for a chance to pay taxes by allowing us to sell these commodities."

"Merchants who are paying trade taxes must be considered first," he said in a letter. "We ask you to live and let live for the good of all concerned."

Open Schools Urged by MO

Closing No Answer to Influenza, Calgary Doctor Tells Board

By The Canadian Press

A Calgary doctor Tuesday criticized the closure of schools as influenza continued to infect Canadians and a telephone company prepared to inoculate its employees.

With classes halted in about a dozen centres, Calgary's medical officer of health, Dr. W. H. Hill, said closing schools may be necessary because of reduced attendance of infected teachers, but he added:

"Generally speaking, the closing of schools has proved a failure in curtailing an epidemic. The children are more likely to intermingle outside of school."

"As a broad rule schools should not be closed, but some units may have to close according to circumstances."

STAY OPEN

Dr. Hill made his statements as the Calgary board of education decided to keep schools open. One high school had lost 19 teachers and two-thirds of its students.

The only new closure reported Tuesday was at Aylmer, Que., where three Roman Catholic schools were shut when a fifth of the 1,000 pupils were absent.

So far influenza has closed down schools in Whitehorse, Y.T., Sherbrooke, Que., Kirkland Lake, Ont., Trail, B.C., Sturgeon Falls, Ont., Lennoxville, Que., St. Elie d'Orford, Que., Amos, Que., and Rock Forest, Que.

Fifty teachers were absent in Edmonton and Alberta's deputy minister of health, Dr. A. Somerville, said at least some of the cases were of the Asian variety.

EPIDEMIC

Fifteen per cent of Calgary's 3,000 high school students were home with the flu and school principal L. H. G. Clark said: "There's no question that the outbreak is an epidemic."

In Toronto, the Bell Telephone Company of Canada announced it intends to inoculate its employees in Ontario and Quebec. Company-hired doctors would use vaccine ordered from the United States.

No further deaths were attributed to Asian flu, described by health officials as a mild variety accompanied by fever and aches. Five deaths have been attributed to it so far in Canada.

Fortune In Jewels With Queen

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth will take "many millions of dollars worth" of her personal jewels with her when she visits Canada and the United States next month.

A spokesman for the National Jewelers' Association said it was "impossible" to put any set estimate on the collection.

"They might even be considered worth more because they are to be worn by the Queen," he said. "But they are worth many millions of dollars."

TRUCK KILLS 'PIRATE' WITH LEG TIED BEHIND

THEALE, England (Reuters)—Youth counsellor Jeffrey Marshall, was going to play the role of Long John Silver in a production of Treasure Island.

The inquest jury heard that her husband was so thorough in preparations to play the pirate's role he strapped his right leg behind him to his left thigh to practice as a one-legged man.

One night, Marshall, using crutches, went into a bar to have a drink and then drove away in his truck.

The truck hit the back of another truck and Marshall was killed, his leg still strapped behind him.

John D. Plans 'Gleam In Grey Sky'

LONDON (CP) — The Daily Mail devotes its front-page editorial today to Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his plans for increasing Commonwealth trade, which it welcomes as a "gleam in the grey economic sky." "We have yet to discover just how big a figure Mr. Diefenbaker will turn out to be," the Conservative paper says, "but some of the most imaginative ideas and action have come from Commonwealth statesmen — men like Smuts of South Africa and Menzies of Australia." The Daily Mail says Diefenbaker's critics may say he is talking too much, and that some of his words are those of a man having his first experience of power and anxious to make a good impression. The important thing, however, was that Diefenbaker's trade plans, including the idea for a transfer of Canadian imports from the United States to Britain, should receive full consideration.

Tariff Board Orders Two Investigations

OTTAWA (CP) — Two tariff board investigations — one a major one covering the entire textile industry — have been ordered by Finance Minister Fleming. The board has been asked to recommend any changes it finds desirable in the scale of the country's protective textile tariff.

The announcement Tuesday from the minister's office also said the board will study tariffs on flourspar, Canada's flourspar-mining industry, centred almost entirely in Newfoundland; has been hit by declining sales abroad.

The finance department statement said strong representations have been made to the government by both management and labor in the textile industry.

"They contend that the industry is in a critical condition and that the employment of some 150,000 Canadians located in towns and cities in all regions of Canada is seriously threatened by unfair competition abroad."

Dates for public hearings would be announced shortly and a chance would be given for representatives of all concerned — producers or consumers — to be heard.

The announcement noted that a substantial number of tariff items on textiles are "bound" under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

That means they cannot be increased by Canada without new negotiations within GATT. A meeting of GATT members to re-negotiate tariffs under the international agreement, planned some time ago, is to be held next month.

Edsel Shows Quality In Test Drive Here

Conductor of Victoria Symphony Orchestra, Hans Gruber is an automotive aficionado, has conducted a life-time love affair with fine cars.

By HANS GRUBER

I have now driven the new Edsel, and can say, without reservations, that the mystery and high expectations that surrounded this car for so long are fully justified.

The Edsel comes in two basic models, these being subdivided into a total of four series—the Pacer-Ranger group, and the Corsair-Citation group, the former being the smaller of the two chassis and with the smaller body, the latter with the larger chassis-body combination. The word "smaller" is strictly relative; even the Pacer-Ranger cars are large, with an engine that displaces no less than 361 cu. in., or exactly six litres. The Corsair-Citation have an engine that is, as of now, by far the largest in displacement and most powerful in torque—output of any passenger car engine in the world—displacement 410 cu. in., or 6.7 litres, with 475 ft.-lbs. of torque at 2,800 rpm!

Lively Throttle

It was such a car—a Corsair two-door hardtop—that I drove, and it took but one block of driving to realize that here was a throttle pedal that had better be treated circumspectly. The performance is fantastic. While I have not tried the "smaller" Edsel cars with the six-litre engine, quick calculations show that their performance should be just as neck-snapping, because of very closely similar power-to-weight ratios between the two series.

Great credit is due the Ford engineers for not having sacrificed everything else to sheer performance. This huge and heavy car is unbelievably stable on the road, steers with great precision and ease even without power-steering—the latter however would undoubtedly be a convenience in parking manoeuvres. The brakes are a worthy opponent to the car's vast power. If we are going to have push-button controlled transmissions, then they certainly belong in the centre of the steering wheel, where the Edsels are. These are connected electrically to the very high-quality automatic transmission which has long been one of the outstanding features of all Ford products.

Technical Interest

The Edsel engines—completely new—have much of technical interest, apart from their sheer size and power output. First of all, these are the first Ford-built engines below the Lincoln level ever to use hydraulic valve-lifters. They have a unique, elaborate, and, above all, effective cooling system. They have the equivalent of the fully expensive - to produce - Ford engines have long been especially elaborately varied as to metallurgy according to the stresses different engine parts are subjected to; and the new Edsel engines carry this to a new high. Like in all Ford engines, valves have the expensive rotating mechanism—these should be among the most durable engines made. Contributing to this—and also resulting in relatively excellent fuel economy—is the highest standard rear-axle ratio ever put into a production car—these engines turn over only 2.9 times per one wheel revolution.

The Edsels are staunchly and safely built. Their extremely roomy and elaborately equipped bodies rest within, not upon, a chassis with flared-out side rails—a priceless safety factor.

Purely on their merit—both as to engineering and unique, elegant appearance—the Edsels should be dangerous contenders in their field.

Trustee Work Ideal for Women Says President

Women have been "delinquent" in accepting their responsibilities in the field of education, Mrs. Nan Murphy, Winnipeg, president of the Canadian School Trustees' Association, said here today.

First woman to head the national body, Mrs. Murphy said too many women feel their responsibilities end when they turn their children over to the schools.

"This is completely wrong," she said. "Basically a woman has a better knowledge of children than men. Because she is at home most of the time, she is closer to the child and has a better working knowledge of his educational needs."

Trustee work is "one field where women can make a very great contribution," she said. Mrs. Murphy came to Victoria this week directly after the close of the national trustees' convention in Fredericton, N.B. She is attending the B.C. School Trustees' Association convention which closes here today.

Eight years a trustee on the Winnipeg School Board, she was the first woman to serve in the capacity of president.

She is also chairman of a Greater Winnipeg Welfare Council study of adolescence, chairwoman of the Winnipeg March of Dimes this year, provincial chairman of the Junior Red Cross, and vice-president of the provincial senior division, and serves on the advisory committee in Canada for the Girl Guides Association.

NO PERSONAL LIFE
"These are my hobbies and I have almost no personal life," Mrs. Murphy said. "Fortunately I have a very understanding and co-operative family."

Her husband, Howard, is a chartered accountant; a son, Les, 24, is in his fourth year law at the University of Manitoba, and another son, Ken, 15, is in high school.

Native-Born Canadians Top Crime List

OTTAWA (CP)—Except for organized vice, the crime rate among native-born Canadians between 1951 and 1954 was twice that for Canada's foreign-born residents.

This is the main conclusion of a report on crime among Canada's foreign-born population released here today by the immigration department. It analyzes crime statistics for the four years provided by the bureau of statistics and the judicial section of the health and welfare department.

The 4,000-word report says the only offence in which the foreign-born rate is higher than the native-born is organized vice, particularly crimes related to gambling and lotteries.

REPORT SAME TREND

The report said the experience of the United States and Australia in respect to immigrant criminality have been similar. Both countries reported that the foreign-born crime rates were considerably lower than those of the native population.

The report says the average yearly rate of criminality over the four years in terms of all persons convicted was 82.1 persons for every 10,000 males between 15 and 49.

The rate for the native-born was 86.6 persons. However, among foreign-born there was an average of 42.8 persons convicted for every 10,000 males in the 15-49 age group.

The over-all rate of conviction for organized vice offences was 3.01 for each 10,000 males in the age group analyzed. The rate for foreign-born was 3.39, compared with 2.88 for native-born.

The report says the high rate was attributable to the frequency of convictions for gambling and lottery offences among foreign-born classified as Asian. For each 10,000 males the Asian rate was 20.02 persons convicted.

AMERICANS HIGHEST

Among the foreign-born it was found that persons born in the United States had the highest rate of conviction. They were followed by Scandinavians and British, with the Italian-born having the lowest conviction rate.

The over-all rate of conviction for sex offences was 2.18 for each 10,000 males. The native-born rate was 2.28 and the foreign-born rate 1.24.

The rate of conviction for sex offences was highest for those born in the United Kingdom. It stood at 1.60, followed by immigrants from Italy at 1.47, from Scandinavian countries at 1.42 and from the U.S. at 1.40. The lowest rate was .67 from immigrants born in Asiatic countries.

The foreign-born and native-born rates were similar for homicide convictions. The over-all rate was .28, the native-born rate .28 and the foreign-born rate .25.

Russ MIGs Downed By U.S. Navy Pilots

BOSTON (AP)—One of the most hush-hush phases of the Korean war—the vanishing of seven Russian pilots by three U.S. Navy fighter pilots—is disclosed in detail by a volume now being published by the U.S. Naval Institute at Annapolis.

Cmdr. Malcolm W. Cagle, co-author of The Sea War in Korea with Cmdr. Frank A. Manson, said in an interview:

"This hitherto secret engagement occurred near Vladivostok, Russia, and was the only time in the Korean war that American pilots fought Russian pilots."

"This episode took place as a result of an American task force moving into far north waters to bombard the military targets in Chongjin."

"The fleet was less than a hundred miles from Vladivostok, and a great deal closer to other Russian territory."

"Suddenly, our radar operators noticed a group of Soviet MIGs moving toward the fleet."

ALL CAME BACK

"It is believed," summed up Cmdr. Cagle, a fighter pilot himself, "that only one, possibly two, of the MIGs got home, while all of our three pilots made it."

The three American pilots subsequently reported the opinion the MIG pilots failed to use superior features of their planes to advantage.

ISLAND DIGEST

Quamichan Assured Of Water Line

DUNCAN—F. Earl Anfield, Vancouver, assistant Indian commissioner for B.C., has assured Indians of the Quamichan Reserve that immediate steps will be taken to put in a half-mile temporary water line to the centre of the Quamichan Village.

The Cowichan River as a source of water for the 50 to 60 people on the reserve has been condemned, and there has been a delay in extending the new water service from the city system to the reserve. This delay has been attributed to the Indians' reluctance to pay the city charge for the water.

One Indian woman from the reserve is in isolation in hospital here and another Indian has been confined to his home because he has been identified as a typhoid carrier.

TEMPORARY

"Until the temporary line is installed," Dr. Anfield said, "water will be supplied to the Indians in cans."

Mr. Anfield and G. H. Perret, Indian agent of the Duncan office, met with councillors of the Cowichan Band on the reserve Tuesday. Representing the Indians were councillors Alphonse Billy and Ben Modeste, along with Simon Charlie, a resident of the reserve.

Following the conference, Simon Charlie remarked, "we have been barking for two years trying to get something done, and now we get action just two days after it gets into the press."

Mr. Anfield warned the Indians that they must not allow anyone to use water from the river. "Especially," he said, "keep the older people away from the river water."

STOCK DIES

The councillors said they would make sure that pensioners and older people are supplied with water.

At the same time, Dr. E. W. R. Best, medical health officer for the Vancouver Island health unit, with Lou Eckford, local sanitary inspector, were checking the situation, and on the death of livestock along Somers Lake from drinking lake water.

Dr. Best said he could not blame the city for the typhoid outbreak, nor could he clear the city. The health department would not approve the Cowichan River at any point as a source of raw water supply.

Nanaimo Group Seeks Trade With Red China

NANAIMO—Trade with Red China is advocated in a resolution from Nanaimo and District Labor Council which will be submitted for consideration at the B.C. Federation of Labor convention in Vancouver next month.

George McKnight, Port Alberni, forwarded the resolution because it would "solve the problem of markets" and help combat the rise in unemployment.

The council will also ask that companies or the compensation board establish accident claims, rather than the worker, and that compensation be boosted from 75 to 80 per cent with a maximum of $5,000, as against the present $4,000.

Nanaimo Names New Labor Chief

NANAIMO—New president of Nanaimo and District Labor Council is John Carruthers, and vice-presidents are James Millmore, Chemainus, and A. J. Smith, Nanaimo.

Mr. Carruthers replaces Jack Moore, who has left the district.

Legion Building Contract Given

DUNCAN—Cowichan branch, Canadian Legion, has awarded the contract for the new Legion building to A. V. Richardson Ltd., Duncan, who tendered for $24,575, lowest of four tenders received.

The building will measure 40 by 100 feet and will include beverage rooms, offices, recreation room and a ladies' auxiliary room.

A MEMORIAL PLAQUE to Cowichan men who died in the Second World War has been unveiled atop 2,650-foot Mount Prevost by the Canadian Legion. The plaque is on a monument built in 1929 to commemorate the dead of the First World War. It is on

Killing Admitted, Says Witness at Murder Trial

NANAIMO—A witness in a murder trial testified Tuesday that two Indians, stripped to the waist, told a man later accused of murder that they had killed his friend and would kill him too.

Leonard Robert Graham was giving evidence at the assize trial of Vernon Ernest Breckon, 34, charged in the slaying of William Wallace, a Quadra Island fisherman.

Graham told the court he saw Breckon the night of the slaying at a St. Patrick's Day dance at Quadra Island's community hall.

He said Breckon was roaming around "calling for his pal." A party of youths recruited from the crowd at the dance had then searched for the "pal."

SOUGHT FRIEND

Graham said two Indians, stripped to the waist, told Breckon they had killed his friend and would kill him. Graham said Breckon hit one of the Indians with a stick before the youths took the stick away from him. He said Breckon was seen later still looking near the hall for his friend.

Dr. John G. Depew of Campbell River testified that Wallace, an Indian fisherman, died as a result of a puncture of the main heart artery. A knife with a 7-inch blade was found near the body.

Qualicum Red Cross Meeting Set

CHEMAMUS—Mrs. I. Dobbins, Duncan, regional president of the Red Cross, paid her annual visit to the Chemainus branch this week. Mrs. Dobbins said she hoped as many members as possible would attend the annual meeting in Qualicum on Sept. 26.

The regional president urged the local branch to start a loan cupboard. Anyone having any donations for the loan cupboard, such as drinking cups, bedpans, rubber rings, crutches, wheel chairs, were requested to notify the secretary.

Red Cross swimming certificates were presented to 42 beginners, 13 juniors, one intermediate and two seniors this year.

The doctor added that the accused was treated by him for minor lacerations to the face. The trial was continuing today.

Indians Discuss Industrial Plant

NANAIMO—On return from the season's fishing, the 350 members of Nanaimo's Indian band will be called together by Chief Edison White to vote on buildings and equipment on the reserve which would produce compressed board.

The plant would cost about $500,000, and Indians from the three Nanaimo reserves would make up the work force for the year-round industry.

Buildings would include dry kilns and a chipper plant on a 3½-acre site.

Guilty Plea on Assault Charge

NANAIMO—George Edwin Marshall, convicted Monday in police court of assaulting Elmer Narsby in a Nanaimo beer parlor, was remanded for sentence.

Narsby was taken to hospital with a skull fracture after the assault. Marshall pleaded guilty to the offence.

Duncan Chief To Meet Queen At Ottawa Fete

DUNCAN—Chief of the Cowichan Indian band, Elwood Modeste, has been selected by Prime Minister Diefenbaker to represent B.C.'s 35,000 native Indians at Ottawa when Queen Elizabeth visits the capital.

She had made a special request that an Indian representative from each province be at Ottawa so she could meet them.

Chief Modeste leaves Duncan October 9 on an all-expense paid trip "to meet the Queen."

He was chosen by the Indian Affairs department because of his work and effort on behalf of Indians in the two years since he was elected chief.

MOUNTIES' METRO VOTED MANAGER-OF-THE-YEAR

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pacific Coast League manager-of-the-year is Charlie Metro of Vancouver Mounties. He was chosen by the PCL Writers' Association which also named Lennie Green, Vancouver centerfielder, rookie-of-the-year, Leo Kiely, San Francisco reliever, was picked pitcher-of-the-year. Last week slugger Steve Bilko was named most valuable player.

Metro brought Mounties, last-place team in the eight-team league in 1956, to the runner-up spot this year.

Tonight, psychology gets its test in lacrosse warfare. Although Victoria Shamrocks should nail down their second Mann Cup championship at Memorial Arena, it will be interesting to see how the Long Branch Pontiacs respond to Coach Elmer Lee's psychological needle.

Lee, who still extolled the virtues of his club and stoutly maintained the Pontiacs would win the Mann Cup after the Rocks had won the first two heats of the best-of-seven series, switched his tune after the Irish had made it three in a row Monday.

"The Shamrocks," he said, "are too good. They want to win. They have the hustle and they have the 'guts'. I can't give my club to desire to win."

And he didn't call a practice Tuesday, giving the youthful Pontiacs time to build up resentment over his words.

Unless the mould of coaches has suddenly changed, Elmer didn't really mean all he said. The fact that he was right when he said the Irish are too good doesn't prove he has stopped figuring how the easterners can still upset the apple cart.

Coaches just aren't built that way. They always have hope. Elmer will still remember how the Pontiacs did—hustle in the second game and how they fashioned an 8-3 lead. And he'll be thinking of the double penalty that gave the Irish the break they needed to force the game into overtime and pull out a 12-9 victory.

No, you can bet your bottom dollar Elmer is still trying to dream up ways to win. And one of the ways is to have his charges in a snarling mood when they hit the floor tonight.

Being a good coach, he doesn't care whether they hate him to right or not, just as long as they're itching to take the Rocks to pieces.

And if the Pontiacs don't come out fighting, it will be a surprise. No athlete likes to be accused of a shortage of intestinal fortitude, especially in a game which, in my books, it takes guts to even walk out on the floor.

Regardless of the outcome tonight, the Pontiacs are still at least two years away from a Mann Cup. From what we've seen, they have youth, speed and team spirit. They lack experience and confidence, and a "big" man like Bobby Allan, Jack Biorda or Skip McKay to hold them together when things get tough.

The nearest thing they have to a spark plug is Johnny Coleman. And Johnny hasn't been scoring.

No Time for Windups Against Rocks

One of the ways in which lack of experience has hurt them has been around the Shamrock goal. They haven't been able to penetrate the Irish defence consistently for close-in shots on a Red-Red Gordie Johnston. They have been firing, often wildly, from long range. When they have been in close, as often as not they have attempted to wind up for a blazing shot—where Peewee Bradshaw, Whitey Severson, Don Sherry, and half a dozen other Rocks would have flipped a quickie—and been smothered by the alert Irish defence.

And Dave "Porky" Russell hasn't been able to match Johnston in the netminding department. Russell, the man who has been the anchor around which three eastern junior championship teams, including the 1955 Minto Cup kings, have been built, still hasn't hit his true form.

The husky young giant, rated the probable successor to Moon Wootton in eastern lacrosse, has had some hot streaks in this series and has generally played a solid game. But he hasn't come up with the great goaling needed by a Mann Cup team.

Shamrocks should wrap up the series tonight, but the Pontiacs may still make things interesting. The Long Branch crew has the potential to be a power in eastern boxia circles for many years and, when seasoned in the fire of playoff battles, to produce a Mann Cup victory.

It won't be in this series, although Russell could come out tonight with the shot-stopping prowess he owned during the regular season. And the Pontiacs could come out fighting mad, the way Elmer would like to see them.

A lot will depend on how the Pontiacs react to Elmer's psychological needle.

Good Showing Tonight Durelle's Big Chance

DETROIT (UP)—Yvon Durelle will try to set up a tight heavyweight championship bout with Archie Moore by an impressive victory tonight over German heavyweight Willi Besmanoff.

Durelle will be giving up age, weight and size to the German in their 10-round bout at Olympia Stadium.

The ancient champion's choice for a quick title fight—after Archie had demolished Tony Anthony in Los Angeles last Friday—was Durelle, the Canadian and British Empire 175-pound king.

Durelle already is the darling of Detroit fight fans as the result of his brawl here in June with Anthony, in which Durelle got a draw but nearly knocked Anthony out in the 10th.

So if the Baile Ste. Anne, N.B., fisherman could stir local fans in victory over Besmanoff, Detroit might get in on the bidding for a title fight along with Toronto and Montreal.

Besmanoff has been in the United States 11 months, losing to Archie McBride and young Alex Miteff of Argentina, but deciding Bob Baker and Calvin Wilson.

No Rest for Kilburn As Season Draws Near

Today's vote for the busiest man of the week goes to Colin Kilburn.

The manager-coach of Victoria Cougars, just back from a 10-day visit to New York Ranger and Boston Bruins training camps, has had nothing but work on his hands during the past few days.

Just in case the weatherman has been inclined to throw you off guard, the Western Hockey League season is almost with us again. It starts at New Westminster Oct. 14.

With Cougars ready to launch their training camp at Nanaimo on Sunday, Kilburn has had little opportunity for rest.

THREE MORE SIGN

Only a few hours after stepping off a plane on his return from a trip to Boston, Kilburn's first duties were to announce the signing of three more players and the return of a fourth.

Signed are Ed Dorohoy, Carl Kaiser and Gord Howarth. Dorohoy and Kaiser both were obtained by Cougars in trades a few weeks ago. Howarth was with the team last season.

Doug Macauley was the fourth player mentioned as returning. Kilburn also had a few chosen remarks concerning his eastern jaunt.

HELP COMING

He is expecting Boston Bruins general manager Lynn Patrick to send two defencemen as well as two forwards to help Victoria's cause.

High on Kilburn's list of hopes is forward Larry Leach, who played left wing for last year's team, but who has been working at centre while at Bruins' camp. Leach has shown a lot of spirit during the work-outs and Kilburn believes him a much-improved player over last season.

Another player who caught the fancy of the Victoria coach was a winger from Sweden, 6' 2", 170-pound Sven (Tumba) Johansson.

BROKEN WHIST

A physical education instructor in his native land, Johansson is currently playing with a broken wrist and holding his own among the hopefuls. A strong skater and fine stick handler, he is not used to the rugged style of Canadian play but feels that he soon will learn to hold his own.

A defenceman with Cougars last season, Nelson Bulloch also looked good to Kilburn, who has hopes that Bulloch will also return.

TEST LIONS TONIGHT

Stampede's Slump Cause for Concern

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary Stampede are aiming for two things tonight when they tangle with B.C. Lions in the first mid-week regular-schedule Western Interprovincial Football Union game ever played here.

The first is to discover whether Wednesday night football games are better drawing cards than Monday night contests since Monday is considered by some to be a poor sports night.

The second, and maybe an overall solution for both, is to end a four-game losing skid that has many fans frankly dropping off the Stampede bandwagon.

Coach Otis Douglas admits he's puzzled over the losses. Calgary won four straight games—two against B.C., one against each of Edmonton Eskimos and Saskatchewan Roughriders—before collapsing in the next four against Edmonton, Winnipeg, Saskatchewan and Winnipeg.

"I expected mistakes like these in the early games, but shouldn't they get better as the season goes on? We have made mistakes that a club cannot make in this league and expect to win."

He pointed to a sagging offensive as a reason for the club's recent failure. A balanced attack is needed and "so far we have not had it."

Gerry James of Winnipeg has plunged into the lead in the individual scoring race.

Statistics show James, the most valuable Canadian player of 1956, has 48 points on eight touchdowns. He led Edmonton Eskimos' Joe Mobra by four points, at the halfway mark of the season. Each team has played eight games.

Mobra, place-kicking end for Eskos, moved into second place with 44 points on one touch-down, 22 converts, five field goals and a single.

Only Calgary failed to place a man among the leading scorers.

PRACTICE FOR PUNJAB

Punjab United of the Victoria and District Football League will hold a practice session at Topaz Avenue Thursday at 6:15 p.m. All players are asked to attend.

ROBINSON HIDES

cause of the split decision by which Basilio won the title and because of Robinson's charges of "intrigue" and the use of an illegal ointment on Basilio's brows.

Carmen, with his face still patched up and badly bruised, said he would be delighted to honor the return bout contract that gives the ex-champion another shot at the title, if he wants to continue fighting.

Until Carmen learns Robinson's decision, he can not decide whether to keep the middleweight crown and defend against bigger men or to continue campaigning as a welterweight.

The N.Y. State Athletic Commission holds that Basilio's welterweight title was automatically vacated when he became middleweight king and that a tournament must be staged to determine his successor.

But Fred Saddy, executive secretary of the National Boxing Association, insists that Carmen will be both welterweight and middleweight champion for 10 days, during which he must decide which title he wants to keep.

Elmer Would Enjoy Eating Own Words

Pontiacs Intend To Prove Coach
Spoke too Soon

It's an almost unanimous opinion that Victoria Shamrocks are going to pick up their second Mann Cup in three years at Memorial Arena tonight.

Coach Elmer Lee said his Long Branch Pontiacs weren't good enough after watching the Irish carve out a 14-6 triumph in the third game of the best-of-seven series Monday.

And Whitey Severson, playing coach of the Rocks, also believes his club has too much depth and power for the youthful Pontiacs, who made a hurried trip to Victoria to represent the east in place of the suspended Peterborough Timbermen.

Few of the fans who watched the Rocks win three straight games gave the Long Branch crew more than an outside chance of prolonging the series beyond the minimum four games.

PONTIACS DON'T AGREE

That leaves the Pontiac players as the only dissenters in the "Rocks in four" platform. And there were indications this morning that the fleet-footed athletes from the shores of Lake Ontario were determined to make their coach eat his own words.

"They haven't seen us play our best, yet," some of the players said during a strategy meeting called by Lee this morning.

"We haven't been hitting on our shots or passing like we can. We still think we can beat the Shamrocks."

Whether they are convinced they have enough ammunition to bomb the Rocks or not, the Pontiacs haven't time for any more mistakes. It's all or nothing tonight.

TO WATCH SHERRY

Lee, who had his charges working out whenever possible during the early part of the Canadian senior lacrosse final, changed his tactics after Monday's loss.

Believing rest would benefit the Pontiacs more than work, Lee didn't call a workout Tuesday and scheduled two meetings to try and find a way to get the Long Branch machine in high gear.

"We are going to try to stop Don Sherry," said Lee, "but other than that, I don't know just what we'll have planned for tonight."

WHITEY STANDS PAT

Severson will go along with practically the same lineup and the same tactics that have produced three straight wins for the Irish.

The Shamrock coach will continue to operate on a line with Peewee Bradshaw and Bob Dobie and keep Sherry, who has scored 10 goals in the three games, on a line with Arnie Dugan and Ed Kowalyk.

Bert Bertola, Alan Gill and Bobby Bremner will continue to work on the third attacking unit.

In front of goalie Gordie Johnston, Severson will again have Skip McKay, picked up from Nanaimo Timbermen along with Dugan for the series, teaming up with Bill Bamford and Lew Landess pairing with Jackie Northup on the other defence combination.

Al Davies will take over the utility chores from Art Green. Game time tonight is 8:30.

Settlement Made Over Ring Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A 24-year-old widow settled for $30,500 in a $500,000 negligence suit over her husband's fatal beating in a Madison Square Garden boxing ring.

Mrs. Elaine Flores, mother of a six-year-old son, won an $80,000 award in 1955 against the State of New York and the State Athletic Commission.

In a separate action, she sued the International Boxing Club and Madison Square Garden Corporation for the death of her husband, George, 21. He was knocked out by Roger Donoghue in a semi-final fight Aug. 29, 1951, and died four days later.

LEAFS UNDER FIRE

NHL Players Set For Legal Battle

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—The National Hockey League Players' Association, refused action Monday on its demands for pension and television rights, plans legal steps to make the league negotiate grievances.

Ted Lindsay, president of the association, said at the Chicago Black Hawks training camp here Tuesday that he has asked the association's lawyers "to test the reason why the league cannot negotiate between us and our grievances."

He said the lawyers would "file charges against each of the owners and the league accusing them of violating the law which requires employers in both Canada and the United States to bargain in good faith with representatives chosen by their employees."

NHL President Clarence Campbell said the NHL failed to act at a meeting in New York Monday because the Toronto and Montreal clubs, operating under Canadian laws, could not concede to the league the right to conduct negotiations on their behalf.

In Toronto, Stafford Smythe, chairman of the Maple Leaf Gardens hockey committee, said the Leaf organization feels it cannot deal with the players' association as presently constituted.

LABOR BACKS PLAYERS

The Maple Leaf organization came under heavy fire from organized labor in Toronto.

W. F. C. Kidd, president of the Ontario Federation of Labor, said, "It seems that when Toronto and Montreal are mentioned as the clubs blocking negotiations, it all comes back to the Toronto club. Some of the people in that club are well-known for their anti-union sentiments."

In New York, J. Norman Lewis who represents the players' association, refused comment on the possibility of legal action.

"We have received no official communication from the attorney for the NHL," Lewis said. He felt the NHL would be in touch with him later this week. "There's no sense in sounding off until the communication is received," he added.

Bucs Retain Dan as Boss

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Danny Murtaugh, a wise-cracking Irishman with a lot of baseball know-how, was named manager of Pittsburgh Pirates for 1958.

Murtaugh said he is elated at the opportunity to direct the Pirates for a full season and added his first goal will be to obtain a power hitter and more pitching help.

Murtaugh, 39, who moved into the managerial job with the sudden dismissal of Bobby Bragan on Aug. 3 in Chicago, has led the Pirates to a respectable 500 class winning 24 and losing 24 since.

General manager Joe L. Brown, who announced Murtaugh's appointment at a press conference, worked with him at New Orleans in 1952-53-54. Brown was general manager and Murtaugh the field manager.

Death Comes Quietly

BROOKLYN (UP) — There's a haunted house in this town today called Ebbets Field.

At 10:17 p.m. Tuesday night, the Dodgers finished what probably was the last baseball game they'll ever play in Brooklyn—a 2-0 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates—and turned the field over to the ghosts of games gone by.

Only 6,702 diehard fans out of what once was baseball's most loyal and fanatic following were on hand for the "death" of the Dodgers.

Walter O'Malley, Dodger president who is expected to announce formally any day now that the club is moving to Los Angeles, was not among those present. And, since the Dodgers have yet to admit officially that they're leaving, the occasion was not marked by any ceremonies.

THEY PARTICIPATED

But the players, the fans, the park employees, the TV and radio broadcaster, and the sports writers marked the passing of the bums in their own way.

The players held a beer-and-crab-fingers "farewell party," courtesy of catcher Roy Campanella. The writers and the broadcasters joined in. The park employees gathered in little groups under the stands for farewell toasts.

And the fans took it in different ways. Some of them cried, standing by the gate leading to the players' clubhouse with tears streaming down their faces as they called to the players inside. Others took it out on the park policemen, booing them with extra gusto every time they recaptured baseballs that fans plucked from the field.

Most of the fans just looked on quietly and left quietly when the game was over.

FAMILIAR SIGHT

Rounding third base after hitting a home run is common thing for Ted Williams this year. Now 39, the Thumper is enjoying one of his greatest years. He batted out his 38th in Sox victory Tuesday.

FOUR IN RUNNING?

New York Looks For Replacement

NEW YORK (UP) — Mayor Robert Wagner's optimistic statement that New York may acquire a major league team to replace the Giants and Dodgers was founded on the fact that a group of local businessmen is planning to make offers to four National League teams.

These teams, the United Press learned, are Cincinnati Reds, Philadelphia Phillies, Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs. Redlegs already have turned down one offer from the group which, incidentally, includes a current stockholder in a National League club.

This is what the group thinks of its chances of buying one of the four teams:

Cincinnati—The group is sure the Redlegs are for sale but that Powell Crosley does not want to sell to someone who will take it from Cincinnati.

Philadelphia—The group has no idea whether Bob Carpenter will sell but will make him an offer.

Pittsburgh—One member of the group told the United Press. "If the Redlegs do not come to New York, I believe there is a very good chance it will be the Pirates."

Chicago—The same member told the U.P.: "Phil Wrigley is a very wealthy man but we believe he might be induced to sell the Cubs."

The offers made to these clubs will be basically the one the Dodgers apparently are rejecting: A stadium "at cost" either in the Flushing Meadow or Whitestone Bridge area. Such an offer will carry the blessing of Mayor Wagner and presumably would be approved by the board of estimate.

The group reasons that some National League team will accept such an offer because all won't pass up the opportunity to draw on the 15-million potential customers in the Greater New York area. This potential, the group will argue, represents approximately 10 per cent of the population of the entire country.

Goalie Worries Strike Stamps

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Stampede of the Western Hockey League opened their 1957 training camp Monday and were immediately faced with goaltending problems.

Manager-coach Frank Currie said frankly he was worried over finding a goalie for Stamps.

"Everything would look a lot better if we could get a goalie with pro experience," he said. "We're waiting for further developments from the Chicago Black Hawks camp but so far have heard nothing."

There have been reports Calgary may get the services of Al Roling, veteran goaltender in the National Hockey League.

A total of 28 players turned out for the first workout including six from last year's club—defencemen Vic Dzurko, Sandy Hucul and Milt Houghton and forwards Barry Hogg, Dave Duke and Enio Scisizzi.

FIGHT RESULTS

JUAREZ, Mexico—Gaspar Ortega, 15, Mexican, outpointed David Cervantes, 14½, Mexico City, B.

TOKYO—Shigeru Kaneko, 17½, Japan, outpointed Flash Elorde, 13½, Philippines, D.

Williams Couldn't Keep Thumping Them Forever

By The Associated Press

Somebody finally got Ted Williams out.

The Boston Red Sox slugger, who returned to action Sept. 17 after a bout with the flu, had made 16 consecutive trips to the plate before Washington's Hal Griggs got him to ground out in the first inning Tuesday night.

But the next time up the big thumper slammed the fifth home run since his return. It proved to be the winning run in a 2-1 Boston decision.

In the only other American League game, Chicago White Sox eliminated from the pennant race Monday night by Kansas City, edged the Athletics 7-6.

DROPS A POINT

Williams' homer was his 38th of the season and left him three behind league-leading Roy Sievers of Washington. He later struck out and walked and his batting average dropped a point to .384, still 19 points ahead of Yankee Mickey Mantle in the batting race.

Earl Battey was 3-for-4 and drove in two runs with a homer for Chicago. Nellie Fox also contributed three hits as Sox scored all their runs in the first four innings to help Don Rudolph to his first win.

If Hank Aaron can keep his big bat booming it may mean trouble when Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees start swinging in the World Series next week.

The Milwaukee outfielder, who hits in spurts, is on a whale of a ride at the moment, batting .415 with four home runs and 12 runs batted in in a 10-game hitting streak. And it's no coincidence that his streak over-laps the eight-game string of victories that brought Milwaukee the National League pennant.

When Hank hits, the Braves breeze.

Aaron's two-run homer in the 11th nailed the pennant in Monday's 4-2 victory over St. Louis, and it was his first major league grand-slam homer run that made Tuesday night's 6-1 decision over the second-place Cardinals a cinch.

KEEPS HOMER LEAD

It was Aaron's 44th home run of the year—his third in three days—and kept him in the major league lead while south-paw Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's probable choice for the Series' opener a week from today, won his 21st.

With the pennant decided, the rest of the National League clubs scrambled for the left-overs. Brooklyn Dodgers, playing what probably was their last game in Ebbets Field, nailed no worse than a share of third with a 2-0 victory over Pittsburgh. Cincinnati clinched fourth and stayed in contention for a third-place tie by beating Chicago Cubs 4-3 and 1-0 Philadelphia's fifth-place Phillies defeated New York Giants 5-0.

YANKS FAVORED

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Reno gamblers expect New York to take the World Series from Milwaukee—the Yankees are favored in 17 to 10 odds posted Tuesday by the Reno Turf Club.

Rookie 'southpaw' Dan McDevitt winning his first in Ebbets Field as the Los Angeles hitting Dodgers played their last home game, gained his second shutout with a five-single job on Pirates. He struck out nine, four in a row at one stretch, for a 7-4 record. Pittsburgh's Bennie Daniels, a right-hander making his first major league appearance, was the loser.

Bob Thurman drove in four

Primate Denies 'Revolt'

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Rev. John W. C. Wand, representing the Archbishop of Canterbury on a Canadian tour, said Tuesday there is no revolt of rank-and-file Anglican clergymen over official opposition to the marriage of divorced persons in the church.

He also said Rev. C. O. Rhodes, editor of the Church of England weekly, is "absolutely wrong" in comments on the situation.

Officially, the church opposes such marriages though individual ministers have the right to perform the marriage ceremony.

many for divorced persons at their own discretion. Rev. Lawrence Davies of London and Queenshill was recently married to a divorced woman, school matron Margaret Worcester.

The retired Bishop of London, one of the church's foremost scholars, said in an interview: "There is no revolt. One or two members perhaps. That's all."

"The vast majority of the clergy accept the bishops' stand on the matter. There will be no change."

His comment on the statement by Rev. Rhodes that the marriage of Rev. Davies "disposes of the myth that such marriages are contrary to the law of the church," was brief. "I believe he's absolutely wrong. That's all."

Pamir Sinking Told by Cadet

HAMBURG, Germany (CP)—A 20-year-old German sea cadet rescued alone in a lifeboat on the Atlantic Tuesday night, told his rescuers there were 21 in the boat when it left the sinking windjammer Pamir Saturday.

Survivor Guenther Haselbach's story was disclosed at Wiesbaden by the United States Air Force which had received a message from the Coast Guard cutter Absecon bringing the man to safety.

The cadet said the Pamir went down under the force of hurricane Carrie shortly after he and the others launched their lifeboat. There was no time to launch other boats, he said.

Haselbach's only companion in the lifeboat when it was found by the Absecon was a dead shipmate. The other 19 were lost "due to bad conditions," Haselbach said.

Five other survivors of the 56 persons aboard the Pamir were picked up two days ago in another lifeboat. They now are aboard the U.S. Navy transport Geiger which is taking them to Casablanca, Morocco. Wiesbaden headquarters also announced that the five survivors aboard the Geiger had said the Pamir actually was observed sinking. "It happened very quickly," one survivor was quoted as saying.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Sidney RCMP court Saturday:

Kenneth William Helfrich, 1586 North Dairy, $29 and $5.50 costs for speeding over $30.

Bank Holdup 'Suspect' Only Geologist

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police with $2,300.

Police were told that a man with lots of money and a gun was to board the 5:10 p.m. plane for Prince George, B.C., and RCMP and city police in five cars swept into the airport, raced across the tarmac and caught their man.

At least, they thought they had their man.

He was dressed in a tan suit, wore an orange and black tie, a tan straw hat with an orange and black band, and a bright yellow vest. He had "considerable" money and a gun in his bag, police said.

But the man wasn't a bank robber. He was a respected businessman heading north to inspect a mining claim. He had a permit for the money and a geologist who insisted on getting off the plane with the holdup suspect was being retained at $100 a day. A charter plane waiting on a runway at Prince George would continue to wait.

The police explained later: "We apologized as best we could."

They refused to release the name of the man. Earlier, a B.C. Electric Co. soil inspector was mistakenly arrested outside the Waldorf Hotel. The man, who held a police citation for helping capture two bank robbers in 1940, said he was "plenty mad."

GI Chased Scavengers Before Firing

SOMAGAHARA, Japan (AP)—A prosecution witness testified today that minutes before William S. Girard fatally shot Mrs. Naka Sakai he chased other Japanese brass collectors on a U.S. firing range.

The witness, Hidetsuga Onezaki, said Girard pursued six or seven Japanese for more than 50 yards on the range near Somagahara.

Girard, of Ottawa, Ill., is charged with placing an empty cartridge case in a rifle grenade launcher and killing Mrs. Sakai.

Testifying at the final outdoor session on the range, Onezaki gave this account:

After chasing the scavengers, Girard returned to his foxhole and threw cartridge cases toward the Japanese. Mrs. Sakai approached and Girard called to her in Japanese.

"Old woman, there's really a lot of brass isn't there?"

Mrs. Sakai went to a foxhole to which Girard pointed and climbed in, Onezaki said. The witness added that he started toward the same foxhole but halted when "the soldier stood up and pointed the rifle toward me."

Girard fired at Mrs. Sakai and she tumbled to the ground, Onezaki said.

Another soldier, Victor Nickel of Inkster, Mich., testified Tuesday that he believed Girard fired at Mrs. Sakai as a joke.

Forest Station Project Begins

Work has started on the construction of a $50,000 header-house for a greenhouse—the first stage of a proposed federal government project to build a $1,000,000 forest biology station in Saanich.

E. D. Dyer, administrative officer for the Forest Biology Laboratory here, said the header-house to contain an office, a heating plant and storage space for plant materials is expected to be completed early in the year. It will measure 87 by 21 feet.

Contract for the building has been awarded to M. P. Paine of Victoria.

A greenhouse 87 feet long and 27 feet wide will be attached to the header-house as soon as it is completed.

The last stage of the project will be construction of a forest laboratory building. Work on this project is not expected to start for another two weeks.

The federal forestry projects are being built on seven acres of land adjoining the new Trans-Canada highway and Burnside, along the side of the Rowland Heights subdivision.

Inquiry Asked by Queen Mother Over 'Stray' Photo of Margaret

LONDON (UP) — Queen Mother Elizabeth was reported today to have asked for an inquiry into how a photograph of an unfinished portrait of Princess Margaret came to appear in a French news magazine. The photograph appeared in the magazine, Paris Match, Tuesday. It was of a portrait of the 27-year-old Princess which artist Pietro Annigoni still has not finished. The Queen Mother was reportedly miffed at the ease with which the photographer gained entrance to Annigoni's London apartment, where the portrait is hanging. Annigoni's housekeeper told London newspapers today that the man assured her he had the painter's permission to take the shots, and hinted strongly that he came from the Princess himself. In Paris spokesmen for Paris Match declined comment.

LEAK ON U.K. INTEREST HIKE? LABOR DEMANDS INVESTIGATION

LONDON (AP) — The Labor party has demanded an investigation of reports that a government leak enabled some British speculators to unload their government bonds before an interest rate increase was announced. The Bank of England interest rate was increased Thursday to 7 per cent in a move to combat inflation. Several newspapers have reported heavy selling of government bonds in the hours just before the bank rate announcement.

Red China Loses 47-27 In Bid for Seat In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — With the question of Red China's admission out of the way for another year, the United Nations General Assembly returned today to policy statement by its members. The second vote of the week in the full assembly put the Peking problem aside by a vote of 47 to 27 with seven abstentions.

The vote on the same subject at the outset of last year's assembly was 47 to 24 with eight abstentions. Red China thus could claim that she had picked up three more votes during the last 12 months in her long fight for membership in the world organization. However, the admission of new members in this period could give her opponents the argument that the general lineup has not changed.

MALAYA OPPOSED

The two newest members, Malaya and Ghana, split in Tuesday night's vote. Malaya in fact put forward the most effective speech in the assembly debate by pointing out that Communist Chinese elements have made up the major portion of the jungle terrorists who have been involved in a shooting war in that country for 10 years.

Ghana, the former British Gold Coast colony in Africa, voted to keep the Chinese question on this assembly's agenda. Malaya went the other way in a ballot which left the usual Asian-African lineup split.

India, leader of the Asian-African neutralist bloc although still a Commonwealth member, instituted the move to keep Red China's admission before the assembly. But the 27 countries who voted with India crossed all the usual assembly balloting lines.

SCANDINAVIAN SUPPORT

Only a few of the 29 African-Asian countries joined the Soviet bloc in the minority vote. But the Scandinavian countries, including NATO members Norway and Denmark, did. Syria and Egypt were prominent among Arab States supporting the Red Chinese position. Israel abstained.

Canada had made her position clear at the outset that she would oppose the question and External Affairs Minister Smith voted for the American-sponsored shelving recommendation.

Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States, who had pushed the recommendation through the assembly's steering committee last week, told the assembly Tuesday that it was "only human" for the U.S. to recall that 35,000 Americans had been killed in the Korean War, and that these casualties "were almost all inflicted by the Chinese Communists."

The U.S. did not oppose Peking's admission because of its "social system," but Red China had "proved beyond doubt that it was not peace-loving."

Russ Subs Top Worry

OTTAWA (CP)—The Russian submarine fleet probably will take on increasing significance in western defence plans, the Earl of Selkirk, First Lord of the Admiralty, said Tuesday.

"I think what most of us interested in naval matters are worried about is just why the Russians, not content with a huge army and an air force armed with nuclear weapons, should also wish to build a very large navy, in fact, far the greatest submarine force that the world has ever seen," the first lord said in an address to the Canadian Club here.

"We know the technique of guided missiles launched under water from submarines is possible. We suspect that this will become of increasing significance and in many ways such a weapon is a very effective answer to those who wish to destroy the enemy's potential by nuclear bombing."

"The submarine is very mobile; it is not easy to detect and even then it is not easy to destroy even with powerful weapons except at fairly close range."

"I can assure you that the interest of the Royal Canadian Navy in this subject is a matter of the greatest satisfaction; and I can also assure you that the Royal Navy is working in the closest association with her sister service."

The first lord will arrive at Patricia Bay at 5:15 p.m. today for a three-day inspection of naval installations at HMCS Naden and HMC Dockyard. He will be met by Rear Admiral H. S. Rayner, flag officer, Pacific Coast.

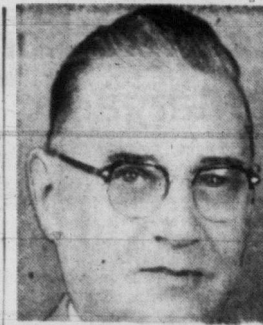

During his visit here he will speak to the United Services Institute of Vancouver Island on Friday evening. He will leave here Sunday.

Brilliant Stars At Art Festival

The ambitious Vancouver Festival of the Arts next year will present great international, as well as Canadian artists, according to a schedule of events and personalities released today.

Nicholas Goldschmidt, artistic and managing director of the Vancouver Festival Society, in conjunction with the British Columbia Centennial Committee, released a preliminary agenda for the festival.

It starts July 20th with an opening concert by the Vancouver Festival Orchestra, conductor to be announced. July 21st will be the premiere of a special play based on British Columbia themes and background by Lester Sinclair, produced by Douglas Seal of the Birmingham Repertory Theatre.

Glenn Gould, Canada's "genius pianist," will give a recital July 22.

A competitive International Film Festival, in co-operation with J. Arthur Rank (Canada) Ltd., has been announced. It will open July 25.

One of the feature attractions will be the production of the opera "Don Giovanni," with Canadian-born George London in the title role and Leopold Simoncau, Pierrette Allaire, Jan Rubes and several local singers. The opera will be produced and directed by one of the greatest producers on the European stage, Dr. Gunther Rennert.

The opera will be premiered July 26. A repeat performance of it will be held during the second week of the festival. On July 27, a second orchestra concert will be held, with Irwin Hoffman as conductor and Glenn Gould, pianist.

Announcement will be made later of another planned concert, with a famous conductor. The International Film Festival closes Aug. 7 with presentation of special awards.

Several symphony concerts are to be given by the Vancouver Festival Orchestra, conducted by local and internationally famous conductors. The soloists in these concerts and in recitals will be some outstanding Canadian artists, including Gould, Lois Marshall, Maureen Forrester, and Jon Vickers.

A competition with cash awards has been established for the best Canadian piano quartet and symphonic work.

QUARTET

The Festival Society has also engaged the Festival Quartet—William Primrose, Seymour Goldberg, Nikola Graudan and Victor Babin. The group will give three public recitals, including in one of the programs the prize-winning work of a Canadian composer. This quartet also will give master classes at UBC during the university summer session.

A special art exhibition of Dutch landscapes in drawings and prints from the old masters to the present day is planned at the University Art Gallery. Special lectures at regular classes will be given.

There will be a special symposium on "The artist, the critic and the public" as part of the general program of the UBC summer session. It is expected that representative critics of drama, music, films and art will be present.

B.C. Power Opening Two New Stations

Official opening of two new generating stations in the central interior of the province was announced Tuesday by Lee Briggs, general manager of the B.C. Power Commission.

Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston, will officiate at the opening of the Prince George plant Saturday, Oct. 5. The Quesnel station will be opened Oct. 3 by William Spears, MLA-elect for the Cariboo riding.

Identical in exterior design with a third station at Dawson Creek, the plants vary in power and have a combined capacity of 42,700 horsepower. All will be fueled by natural gas when pipeline connections are completed.

The Prince-George plant was completed and in operation a year from the date that the Power Commission took over the formerly municipally-owned utility.

Operation of the three plants coincided closely with the start-up of the Georgia generating station at Chemainus, on Vancouver Island, the world's largest gas turbine electrical generating station.

The Commission said today that arrangements are being made for an official opening of the Georgia station early in November. The first 25,000 horsepower unit went into service Sept. 9.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Toronto Market Down In All But Mines

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market moved to the downside in all sections but mines today in slow mid-afternoon trading.

Aluminum, Dominion Steel, Imperial Oil, Stelco, Trans Mountain, Pipe Line, Consolidated Paper and Dominion Glass, trading ex-dividend, were all off at least a point among key industrials. Ford A maintained an earlier gain of 4 points at 1 1/2. Bank of Commerce was up 1 1/2 points at 42 1/2. Other price changes were generally fractional.

The New York market differed lower this afternoon. Losses among pivotal issues ranged from fractions to two points or more.

AT MONTREAL scattered issues fell or gained more than a point.

AT TORONTO senior base metals were mixed in a one-point range while lower-priced stocks were lower in a 40-cent range. There were a few 15-20 cent gains.

AT NEW YORK Canadian issues were mostly in the minus column. Loggers included Aluminum Ltd., down 1 1/2; International Nickel, 1 1/2; Hudson Bay Mining, 1/2 and Canadian Pacific, 1/2.

Eureka, up 1/16, was one of the few Canadian gainers on the American exchange. Many issues were unaltered or unchanged. Preston East Dome and Fargo

AT VANCOUVER prices were slightly lower on a quiet market. Vantor sold at $13.30 at $12.25. Pacific Nickel moved $1.50 at $7.70. Trajan moved $3.00 at $25 and Peace River Pete moved $2.00 at $10.50.

Photographic Chief For CNR Retires

MONTREAL—W. H. (Billy) Robinson, one of Canada's first industrial photographers and a man whose photographs of outdoor Canada are familiar throughout the world, has retired as chief of Canadian National Railway's photographic branch.

U.K. to Hold Pound at $2.80—Thornycroft

WASHINGTON (UP)—Great Britain's chancellor of the exchequer declared Tuesday that the value of the pound sterling will be maintained at $2.80.

Peter Thornycroft told the governors of the International Monetary Fund, "I have not come here to discuss the exchange rate parity of the pound. It stays at $2.80."

He spoke shortly after Per Jacobson, managing director of the 64-nation fund, urged the world's finance minister and bankers to defend their official currency exchange rates when they are known to be "realistic."

Mr. Liersch joined the Powell River Company in 1947 as Forestry Engineer and has been Vice-President in Charge of Forestry and Logging Operations since 1950.

He was one of the first graduates in forestry from the University of British Columbia with B.A. and B.Sc. degrees. He won a fellowship which took him to the University of Washington for a master's degree. Later he continued research work under a Charles Lathrop Pack scholarship.

Prior to joining Powell River Company he headed the Department of Forestry at the University of British Columbia.

Mr. Liersch is a Member of the Council and Past President of the Association of Professional Foresters of British Columbia; Past President and Executive Member Western Forestry and Conservation Association; Member of the Executive Committee, Pacific Logging Congress; Member Provincial Curriculum Advisory Board; Vice-Chairman Advisory Committee on Research, Dominion Forest Products Laboratory, Vancouver.

Foreign Oil Cheaper For Canadian Users

MONTREAL (BUP)—Consumers in certain parts of Canada are reaping financial advantages by using Caribbean and Middle East fuel rather than Canadian oil, a leading business review stated today.

The four-page analysis of business trends, issued by the Bank of Montreal, blamed the fault on the vast difference between expensive pipeline charges and low tanker tariffs.

Transporting oil from Western Canada to consumer areas east of Ontario was proving so expensive that a large proportion of the home market preferred to use foreign oil, the bank said.

And this problem was making users ignore the huge potential of Canadian oilfields, it added.

To date only one well has been drilled for about every 140 square miles of oil-bearing territory in Canada as opposed to one well every 12 square miles in the United States.

UP 23 TIMES

Since the first well was sunk at Leduc, Alta., 10 years ago Canada has increased its oil production 23 times, the bank said, and has become 65 per cent self-sufficient in meeting oil needs.

Yet, potential production from existing wells last year could have met all Canadian requirements had it not been for marketing difficulties.

Demand seems likely to expand and plans are underway

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices of all coarse grains were lower in moderately active trade Wednesday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. However, most losses were not large as support appeared on the dips.

There was no new overseas interest. Only export business reported was the sale of a small lot of flax overnight to the United Kingdom.

Selling here against purchases made at Chicago appeared in oats and offerings were from commercial houses. Domestic shippers and local houses gave the best support.

U.S. and commercial house selling appeared in barley. Rye was mostly local with some American buying. Most of the indifferent interest in flax came from American houses. Offerings were from local houses.

Overnight loadings of Canadian wheat totalled 1,007,000 bushels and included 483,000 to The Netherlands; 369,000 to Japan; 114,000 to the United Kingdom and small amounts to Belgium and Italy.

Lakehead prices for Class Two, IWA and domestic wheat were all up one-quarter-cent from Tuesday.

Land Sale for Elderly Wins City Approval

City council has authorized the sale of property on Harriet Road for a big housing project for senior citizens sponsored by the United Church, it was announced today.

Sale of the five-acre property is to the Gorge View Society. Price, $15,000.

Construction will start soon, and will proceed as speedily as funds become available.

The project will consist of 60 low-rent units for married couples and 12 for single persons. The proportion of married to single units may be adjusted as construction proceeds and circumstances change.

The whole plan will remain flexible.

Committee chairman Mrs. F. H. Parsons is appointing an executive, and sub-committee chairman will be named later.

Operation of the project will be under control of the Gorge View Society which is incorporated under the Societies Act and sponsored by the Victoria United Church Presbytery.

Architect for the plan is Charles E. Craig, and W. T. Straith QC is providing legal supervision and advice.

Property on which the cottages will be built is bounded by Harriet Road, Balfour Avenue and Irma Street.

Council had originally asked $30,000 for the land. It is the home site of a pioneer Victoria family, the Frank Adams, who were active members of Centennial Church 60 years ago.

The society had considered 11 properties, from Ladysmith to Victoria.

Cottages to be erected will cost under $7,500.

The committee hopes the venture will be the first of several on Vancouver Island to be undertaken by the United Church "for the relief of persons sorely in need of adequate housing accommodation."

Blind Housing Tenders Due In October

Tenders for a $120,000 low-rent housing development for the blind will be called in mid-October, Eric Brettell, Victoria director for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, said today.

Construction, originally scheduled for October, probably will be delayed until next March, Mr. Brettell said, "because there is quite a bit of clearing and leveling to be done first."

The development on the north side of Humboldt between Rupert and Vancouver streets will provide 14 units in four single-storey buildings. There will be accommodation for 10 couples and four single persons.

MD Fee Increase Supported Here

A 15-per-cent increase in doctors' fees throughout British Columbia will bring doctors' earnings up to the level of TV repairs, plumbers and electricians, a Victoria physician said today.

He stated emphatically that doctors are now earning less than skilled tradesmen having regard to the cost of training and equipment required.

Other local doctors supported this view, although they have not yet been officially advised of the increases approved at a B.C. Medical Association meeting in Vancouver and announced Tuesday night.

Under the new list of approved doctors' fees the first home visit will cost $8 instead of $6 and office visits will go up to $10 from $7 where a full medical examination is involved.

It is expected that premiums paid by employees under the Medical Services Association will be increased. But a spokesman for the MSA in Vancouver said no such increase has yet been ordered.

"Our directors have not yet considered the matter," he said. Victoria doctors say the higher fees are in line with increased costs of office and medical equipment, and some drugs which are not charged to the patient.

"I understand TV repairmen charge $5 for the initial examination of a set which goes out of order," one doctor said.

"VERY LOW" "By comparison, $6 for the first home visit by a qualified physician is very low indeed. With all respect to the TV man, his training is not as costly as ours and he is not required to give service as promptly."

"Much the same applies to plumbers and electricians. Their work is important but their training is less expensive than a doctor's and the pressure on a doctor is greater."

He pointed out that doctors receive much less than the standard fees where social welfare cases are concerned—often as little as $1.70 for a home call.

A spokesman for the B.C. Medical Association said the new $10 fee for office visits will apply only where a full medical examination is required.

"In many cases," he said, "the doctor makes a brief call on the patient at his home and later calls him in for a full examination."

"This examination naturally takes up much more of the doctor's time."

Asiatic Flu Vaccine Due Here Next Week

Vaccine to combat Asiatic influenza which is rapidly spreading throughout Canada is expected to arrive in Victoria early next week, Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy, Victoria-Esquamet Medical Health officer, said today.

The vaccine, she said, was now on its way from Connaught Laboratories in Toronto and would be allocated to essential services as soon as it arrived here.

She said only about 4,000 employees and employees in essential services, such as the B.C. Electric Co., the City Fire Department, police, hospitals and doctors would receive the vaccine.

"We are fully organized to allocate the vaccine as soon as it reaches the city," she said. At the same time, Dr. Mahaffy announced that starting next month medical health officers will start inoculating several hundred school children who have not yet been immunized against polio.

Shipments of Salk vaccine were due to arrive in Victoria any time now, she said, for the polio immunization program.

"There are several hundred children who have not yet been vaccinated against polio," she said. "They will all receive inoculations providing they have the consent of their parents."

Dr. Mahaffy urged parents have their children also immunized against diphtheria and smallpox next month.

"After a child reaches six months, its immunity to diseases wanes," she said. "Small doses of vaccines helps the child to 'build up' protective immunity against infections."

While deaths from diphtheria had greatly decreased during the past 25 years, she pointed out that it was still a dangerous disease.

At what age does the normal child reach the peak of mental ability? J.E.

A. This is reached about the age of 15. When a child reaches this peak of mental development he can solve most problems, if he has the necessary training and experience, that he can hope to solve in adult life. Though skills and wisdom increase later, he is not likely to increase the ability to learn.

Bread Firms Curtailing Deliveries

Rising Costs Cause of Move

Two large city bakeries will join a third in eliminating Wednesday bread deliveries to stores.

McGavin Bakeries Ltd. will start the curtailed schedule next week. Canadian Bakeries Ltd. will follow suit in a "week or so" a spokesman said today.

The third bakery, Weston Bakeries Ltd., eliminated Wednesday deliveries three years ago when it went into the whole sale business exclusively.

Canadian Bakeries, which produces Fourx Toastmaster bread, also is experimenting with no-Wednesday deliveries on house-to-house routes, but has not made a policy decision on this aspect yet.

"We are still in the throes of experimentation," a company official said. He added, however, that the company's Vancouver branch went on a five-day delivery schedule two months ago.

McGavin's is not contemplating curtailment of household deliveries at present.

If no-Wednesday bread deliveries to homes are inaugurated, they will follow the precedent set this week by the city's four major milk distributors.

UNDER STUDY Both McGavin's and Canadian Bakeries' representatives said today that the wholesale delivery curtailment had been under study for several months and was not connected with the milk distributors' move.

The wholesale delivery cut was made to "stabilize rising costs" and no increase in the price of bread is anticipated.

Stores will take extra stocks in their Tuesday deliveries for Wednesday sale.

MOURNING FOR KING OBSERVED

All social functions by Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross and Mrs. Ross have been cancelled to Oct 4 in court mourning, as observed in Buckingham Palace, for the late King Haakon of Norway.

Mourning started the day he died, Sept. 21.

Official ceremonies will still be attended, as will functions in relation to charitable enterprises, but nothing of a social nature.

For this reason, His Honor cancelled attendance at a dinner by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce slated for October 3.

Veterans Ask City Aid For Convention

City Council will be asked by Victoria Unit No. 12, Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans of Canada, for financial assistance to entertain some 300 veterans who will be coming to British Columbia next year to attend a national biennial convention.

The local unit in a letter to the city said the veterans will be attending a five-day convention in Vancouver next September. It was planned to invite them to Victoria during their stay in the province.

New Westminster City Council, the letter said, had already voted $300 to bring the delegates to that city. The Victoria Unit felt it was in the interest of the city to make a similar donation to assist in bringing the delegates here.

Island Aldermen Seek New Terms Next December

Two Vancouver Island aldermen chose the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention corridor caucuses at Nelson today to announce their candidacy in December civic elections.

Ald. M. H. Mooney of Victoria and Ald. William Moore of Courtenay both said they would stand again for office.

Ald. Mooney was first elected in 1951 and has served since then except for a one-year interval. Ald. Moore is a former CCF MLA for Comox.

MONTE ROBERTS

There is a rule which this space tries very hard to adhere to, and that rule is to the effect this space is off limits to poetry in any shape or form.

But the following sneaked by the law over the matter of speeding seemed to call for something out of the ordinary.

2. It is doubtful if the following can be called poetry, in any shape or form.

Here's to B.C.'s pride and joy,
He knows what we've been needing.
The thrills, the jolts that cannot eoy,
The kicks that come from speeding.

He builds our highways straight and true,
With curves of course for corners,
And hopes the drivers will eschew
The wrecks, the wits, the mourners.

And then in tones devoid of wrath
Symbolic of his piety,
He tells us all to drive the path,
Of S.C. and sobriety.

So raise your mugs (replete with milk)
And toast all men as hardy,
May B.C. ever breed the ilk,
Of Phillip A. Gaglardi.

Or, as the non-poet might put it, now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of Gaglardi.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Worry Is Detriment To Our Mental Health

"Mental health is of the greatest importance to all of us. It not only affects our happiness but our health, and even our looks. Jealousy, anger, envy, cynicism, depression—all have their damaging influence, but perhaps worry is the greatest saboteur of them all.

"Worry saps a tremendous amount of energy. This can make one feel exhausted when there is no real physical difficulty. It actually can cause illness.

It also gives us wrinkles and a drooping facial contour. It may even show in our walk and posture. It is something none of us can afford; once it gets into our outlook it can be a vicious and tenacious habit. It takes real effort to break the worry habit—but it can be done!

A sense of humor is most helpful. We must also learn to execute mental and emotional cutouts in times of unhappiness if we are to survive. The realization that our problems and disappointments are no worse, and not as bad, as those of many others, helps.

Life is wonderful but it is rugged, and full of risks to life, limb and happiness. Perhaps some folks sail through life without any problems or any complications, but I doubt it! Most people are under financial strain from maturity all through life and are attacked by stresses from all sides. They are pulled this way and that by their loyalties and obligations, their desires and dreams. Even if there is plenty of money there are apt to be emotional difficulties. Life isn't easy for anyone all of the time.

It seems to me that it would be helpful if we could keep this in mind. It would make us more tolerant to remember that most of the thoughtlessness, rudeness or cussedness we meet come from inner turmoil on the part of the offender or from poor health. This alone would relieve us of many a negative emotion.

If you would like to have my leaflet which gives you psychological suggestions on how to end the worry habit send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 64, "Worry," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Fish filets may look anonymous but they certainly won't taste anonymous if served with this tangy, lemon-flavored sauce. Blend ½ cup of mayonnaise with 2 tablespoons of flour and 1 cup of milk. Cook and stir over hot water until thickened, then stir in 1 tablespoon of lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon of salt and 1 tablespoon of chopped parsley. Very special with baked or steamed filets of sole.

You Can Make Four Basic Costumes Travel In 24 Different Ensembles

By KITTY DIXON

What to take?

That's the question that hounds every potential traveler. She knows she must cut her wardrobe to the barest minimum, but how to do it is the problem.

Well, Carol Lane has all the answers. Travel is her business. She actually lives out of a suitcase, so what better authority could there be?

Travel director for a large oil company, auburn-haired Carol lectures from coast to coast on all phases of travel in Canada by car.

But it's her talk on "what to take and how to pack it" that's getting keenest reactions from her feminine listeners.

In 10 minutes she packs (without cramming) 43 items into a 21-inch suitcase . . . enough for a two-week holiday.

"I have a four-basic-costume wardrobe that mixes and matches into 24 different ensembles!" says Carol, who feels that a little thought in planning saves you from those frustrating "what can I wear?" days while travelling.

Here are the four basic costumes:

1. Carol calls it her "rugged life costume." For motoring, lounging and sports she wears a classic blouse with short or pedal pushers (pedal pushers are easier to pack than slacks).

2. Two-piece print "day or night" dress . . . a full, unpressed pleated skirt with 2-way blouse (neckline can be worn low, or demure). Make this a cheerful color.

3. Three-piece spectator sports ensemble. Top in bright color should be strapless or halter, with circular skirt and bolero which can be slipped on, on cool evenings.

4. The travel suit . . . a must. Choose a light-weight wool and orlon fabric for wonderful crease-resistant results.

Carol suggests a style with deep armholes and rounded shoulders for ease if you are driving.

"There you are!" she smiles. "With accessories, you have 24 different outfits!"

Carol's hat is one that packs flat . . . can be worn countless different ways.

She feels color is most important when choosing a travel wardrobe.

First, select a basic, neutral color, such as grey or beige, and contrast it with a dark color.

(Carol uses black) and a bright color.

"Shall I take a formal?" you may ask.

"No," is Carol's answer. "Not unless you have some specific affair to attend."

A survey taken recently shows that only one per cent of women travellers needed an evening dress on their trips.

As a compromise, Carol is ready with the full skirt of her number two costume, which she wears with a strapless top, an uncrushable nylon velvet cummerbund (black) and a matching velvet stole, lined with the same fabric as the dress.

"It's really very attractive and all I need," she maintains.

For Carol Lane's versatile hat pattern or her traveller's check list, you may phone or write The Victoria Daily Times Women's Department and we'll tell you where to send for them.

On Etiquette

TEA-POURING PATTERS

I have been asked to pour at a trossau tea and would like to know how to do it correctly. Is it permissible to visit with the guests while presiding at the table and when not momentarily busy? Please tell me anything else I should know for this kind of a party.

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

Just be natural and at the same time give the guests what they want. Yes, it is permissible to visit with the guests during any lull in pouring. You can even do a little visiting while pouring, providing it doesn't interfere with what you are doing. When you Louise Davis arrive at the party, ask your hostess for any special instructions, but I doubt if there will be any, for she will have all of the equipment ready. Before pouring tea in a cup, ask each guest how she likes it, whether weak or strong, whether she would like sugar, cream or lemon. See that the filled cup is on its saucer or on a plate (whichever way the hostess has planned), and place a teaspoon on the saucer unless there are spoons already arranged on the table. When and if the teapot needs replenishing, indicate to your hostess, an assistant hostess or a maid that a new supply is needed. As far as a trossau tea is concerned, there isn't any difference between that and any other kind of tea as far as the table appointments and pouring are concerned. It is considered an honor to pour tea, so be sure to thank your hostess for asking you.

Three to Make Dessert—Cover hot golden brown waffles or toasted pound cake slices with sliced fresh peaches and top with a generous spoonful of sour cream sweetened to taste with confectioners' sugar.

A WOMAN AT BLAST FURNACE

TORONTO (CP)—Women turn up in the most surprising phases of modern industrial life, and this 20th Century axiom is proved once again by Dr. Lucy Morgan.

She has written a report on the Canadian steel industry's economic and physical condition for the Royal Commission on Canada's Economic Prospects, which commission chairman Walter Gordon says is "the best thing on the steel industry I've seen."

Charming and quietly humorous, Dr. Morgan is feminine enough to seem out of place around the rolling mills and blast furnaces. Her manner is gentle, but her voice is firm.

As a full-time member of the economics department of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Toronto she has gained a reputation as the editor of the bank's monthly news-letter.

'Pretty Girls'

LONDON (CP)—A British tourist in Quebec marvels at the pretty girls. But she doesn't think much of the men.

"I don't think that I have ever seen so many prettily dressed girls as I have since coming to Quebec," says Mrs. J. E. T.—only the initials are given—in a letter to The Daily Telegraph.

French-Canadian women showed an "instinctive ability" to dress becomingly, and the vogue for ponytail hairdos was attractive.

But, adds Mrs. J. E. T., it's just as well, because the menfolk wear "creased and ill-fitting" suits and don't improve matters by stuffing their hands in pockets and adopting a slouching gait.

Here's a delicious main dish for the main meal of the day. It will go over big with grown-ups, teen-agers or the small fry

Serve Lamb Roll for Oven Easy Meal

A boneless lamb roll is an ideal meat choice for an oven dinner. The meat may be thawed before roasting or cooked from the frozen state, depending upon which is the most convenient. Fluffy baked potatoes and a subtle lemon-herb bread stuffing are two tasty accompaniments which bake at the same temperature as the lamb. They can be placed in the oven with the roast far enough ahead of serving time so that all of the foods are ready at the same time.

Cooking time of the meat will vary with the size of the lamb roll and whether or not it has been thawed before it goes into the oven. The lamb roll should be served fork-tender and piping hot, in order to make the most of its delicate flavor. Since the bone has been removed from the lamb before it is rolled, even the most inexperienced carver will find the meat is easily sliced into attractive servings.

COOKING SCHEDULE

Weight of lamb roll: Three, 4 pounds, 5 pounds. Approximate cooking time: For thawed roll, 1½ hours, 2¼ hours or 2½ hours; for frozen roll, 2¼ hours, 2½ hours, 3¼ hours.

To cook a frozen or thawed lamb roll, place the roll on a rack in a heavy kettle. Add ¼ cup water. Cover. Cook over a low heat or in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) according to the cooking schedule above or until fork tender.

THE TRIMMINGS

Four cups dry bread cubes (about 8 slices), 2 tablespoons minced onion, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, ¼ cup chopped parsley or 1 tablespoon parsley flakes, ¼ cup chopped celery, ¼ teaspoon leaf thyme, ¼ teaspoon leaf thyme, ¼ teaspoon powdered majoram, ¼ teaspoon rubbed sage, ¼ cup melted butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ cup water.

Toss all ingredients together lightly. Place in 8-inch square or round baking dish that has been rubbed well with butter. Cover and bake in slow oven (350 deg. F.) 30 minutes. Remove cover and continue baking 20 minutes or until top is crusty and lightly browned. Serve with cooked lamb roll.

Yield: Four to six servings.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Currants are prized as fresh whole fruit, for juice, in jellies and jams, and in baked products. The fresh berries, sugared and chilled, then topped with cream, or combined with other fresh fruits, are a special treat. The bright red color and perky flavor of currants add taste appeal to muffins or cinnamon roll filling and currant juice is a popular base for fruit punches, sherbets and ices.

To make currant juice: wash, measure and crush currants thoroughly. Add one cup of water for each cup of currants. Bring to boil and simmer covered, 10 minutes. Strain through moistened jelly bag. Add sugar to taste.

The soybean, insignificant as it may seem, can be put to more uses than the trusty safety pin. For instance, it is used in the manufacture of plastics, synthetic fibres, paints, salad oils, candy and cosmetics. It is a valuable livestock feed supplement. The soya derivative, lecithin, is used to prevent sediment formation in lubricating oils and gasoline, and as a wetting agent in ink and paint manufacture. Oil from the soybean is used in the tanning of leather, dyeing of textiles and in making soaps and water-proofing agents.

Hair Tints Add Glamor to Season's New Ensembles Says Famed Stylist

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian woman who plans her fall fashions strategy with a knowing eye is advised to try temporary hair colors for added glamor.

"Her whole appearance will take on a fresh look," says Gene Zlotek, Toronto hairdresser.

"Any woman can make autumn fashions in taupes, reds and dramatic blacks, most becoming outfits by pampering her hair until it has an added sheen and gloss."

EASILY REMOVED

Rinses also add new life and brightness to the hair. And in applying hair colors it is to be remembered that they can be removed with one shampoo.

The rinses and tints on the market today can really be called "hair cosmetics." Besides, Mr. Zlotek said, they hide hair-color faults.

Blondes usually have trouble with their hair in their early teens when the golden lights start to darken.

"Their common complaint is 'mousey hair,'" said Mr. Zlotek. He recommends brightening the hair with reddish rinses for a strawberry-blond look. Pink or blue-shaded rinses will also solve the problem.

For "poor" hair when no under the hot sun have left amount of brushing or doses of their hair with either a brassy vitamin B has helped, Mr. Zlotek suggests golden rinses.

Mr. Zlotek says a rinse, one look or an uneven color. "Hair will pick up a gloss or two shades darker than the hitherto lost and make skin natural hair color, is the solution creamier at the same time," he said.

With the coming of fall many away that brassy look that women find that months spent every woman hates.

Everybody "NICE" says it's

THEFT VICTIM TURNED INTO 'PIN-UP' GIRL

FORT ERIE, Ont. (BUP)—Advertising paid off too well for Mrs. Doris Jaun.

For $1.25 she inserted the following notice in the weekly Times-Review:

"Would the person who cut down my plastic clothesline and also my clothes prop, kindly call back and I will give them the clothes pins."

But when the newspaper hit the street, Mrs. Jaun said: "My telephone has been ringing ever since. Everybody wants to come for the clothes pins."

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING

Victoria District Notes—October 14 is the date set to commence district preliminary training courses for pack Scouters. Arthur Chamberlain, assistant district commissioner for training, asks all those interested in taking the course to get in touch with district headquarters, 1034 Johnson Street, as soon as possible.

If sufficient numbers require the training it is hoped to hold sessions in Colwood Community Hall and at Scout headquarters. Both courses to run simultaneously. A joint meeting of both classes will be held for the outdoor session.

Plans are being formulated to hold a series of week-end courses for troop Scouters, which will be run strictly on the Patrol system. Each Patrol leader will be responsible for the work being carried out.

Mr. Chamberlain and Frank Nelson, assistant scout commissioners, are to head up this venture.

This experiment calls for Scouters who have had Gilwell or other extensive training to act as Patrol leaders.

Willows Troop—At the court-of-honor meeting held on Friday last, plans for a camp to take place the coming weekend at Todd Inlet were made.

At the meeting on Monday evening Patrols were sent on an expedition collecting specimens of shrubs and trees, working for their second class tests.

Oaklands group—Harry Ward, district cubmaster, paid the pack a visit on Monday evening. Tenderpad, first and second star work was carried out. There are 21 boys in the pack which is being held to that number till more adult help is available.

Tillamook group—A combined meeting of "A" and "B" packs was held when Queen's Scout Philip Rowbottom gave the cubs a talk on his trip to the 9th world jamboree held at Sutton Coldfield, England. Philip also showed a movie of some of the highlights of the adventure.

A "going-up" ceremony will be held on Thursday evening when a number of Cubs will move on to the troop.

There are upwards of 60 boys in the group with a waiting list of approximately 20.

New Sub-Hunter For Canada Ready Monday

MONTREAL (BUP)—Canada's latest air-borne sub-hunter, the giant Argus, will be officially christened and accepted Monday.

George R. Pearkes, VC, minister of national defence, will accept the aircraft with the built-in electronic brain and then hand it over to Air Marshal Hugh Campbell, chief of air staff.

Mrs. Campbell will officially christen the Argus, named after the 100-eyed giant of Greek mythology.

The craft was built by Canadair.

5-Year Sentence For Assaulting 10-Year-Old Girl

NANAIMO—James Paul Lewis, 32, of Dashwood, was sentenced in Assize Court Monday to five years in the penitentiary after conviction on a charge of raping a 10-year-old girl.

He had pleaded not guilty, and was defended by Ronald F. McIsaac. His wife and two young children were in the court when sentence was passed by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

FANTASTIC STORY A FAKE

Hungarian Stowaways Exposed at Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two Hungarian stowaways, who were discovered in an American ship last week told a fantastic story of an illegal journey half way around the world, arrived back in Vancouver Monday—telling a different tale.

Jozsef Buruz, 23, and Jozsef Karos, 19, who were caught in Bellingham, Wash., on a Norwegian freighter from Vancouver, admitted the story was faked.

"We thought it would make people more sympathetic," they explained in halting English.

The pair told U.S. immigration officials they fled from Hungary after slipping across the border into France and stowed away aboard a ship in Marseilles. They said the ship called at Halifax, where they disembarked illegally in March.

U.S. officials doubted the story and sent them back to Vancouver.

ON AIRLIFT

On their return Monday, they admitted they came to Canada legally in April on the refugee airlift from Hungary. They said they wanted to leave Vancouver for South Africa because they thought job opportunities were better there.

Canadian immigration officials said Buruz gave up a job in a West Vancouver printing shop to stow away aboard the ship.

Karos, a carpenter by trade, has had no permanent work since arriving here, they said.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictorial Encyclopedia to Dan Grothaus, aged 10, of Boise, Idaho, for his question:

How Do They Make Rubber?

Most of the world's rubber supply is made from plant juice. We have tried to make it from raw materials. But so far the best and the cheapest rubber is manufactured for us by plants. Several plants produce the special rubbery juice called latex. The most and the best is produced by the rubber tree called the hevea.

The hevea rubber tree is a native of Brazil. Hence, we have known of rubber only since the New World was discovered. Our Age of Science depends heavily upon rubber.

For who could count the rubber trees needed to carry us and our goods from place to place? Brazil could not supply the world's need for rubber. So the hevea tree has been planted to grow in other lands.

There are rubber plantations in Indonesia, Malaya, Ceylon, India, Burma, Indo-China, Siam and Borneo. The wonderful tree will grow in wet, tropical regions within 15 degrees of the equator.

The precious latex is in the tree's inner bark. It is a milky liquid. Tiny pear-shaped drops of pure rubber are afloat in the serum. The trick is to drain off the rubber sap without damaging the tree. This is done by cutting a sloping groove through the outer bark.

Sap from the inner bark runs down the slope into a bucket. Pails of milky latex are taken to the rubber factory.

There the liquid is diluted with water and poured into troughs. A little formic acid is added to the brew. This causes the globules of rubber to cling together. They separate from the serum and form a rubber sheet which floats to the top.

In a few hours, one pound of pure rubber is formed from every three pounds of liquid latex.

The solid rubber is sent through rollers to be pressed in thin sheets. Some of the sheets are dried in the air and some are smoked as they dry. The air-dried rubber takes about three weeks and the finished product is called pale latex.

The smoke process takes less than a week. The finished product is thin, ribbed sheets of pale amber color. The thin sheets of rubber are then baked and shipped. A small amount of concentrated latex, containing ing one-third of the natural serum is shipped in liquid form.

The bales of rubber sheets arrive at the factory where they will be made into rubber tires, garden hoses, boots, over-shoes, hot water bottles and such. The sheets are fed into a machine called the banbury.

There, a series of turning knives chew the rubber to bits. After three such chomping, the rubber is ready for other ingredients to be added.

Sulphur is added and carbon black and mineral oil. The mixture is sent through a kneading mill. When the brew forms a smooth paste it is ready to be molded into shape.

This is done by heat, through steam or warm air. The heat vulcanizes the rubber with the sulphur and carbon black adds to the durability.

There are thousands of recipes for making different articles of rubber. But all require latex from the tropical hevea tree as other rubber plants do not produce commercially useable latex.

Andy sends a Hammond's Ambassador World Atlas to Claudia Shaylor, age 11, of Middleburgh, New York, for her question:

Who does the Rio Grande belong to?

For 1,250 miles, the Rio Grande carves out the border between Mexico and the United States. When Texas became part of the United States the Mexicans refused to take the Rio Grande as a dividing line and went to war. We might say that the Rio Grande caused the Mexican war. In 1848 when the Treaty of Guadalupe-Hidalgo was decided, it was agreed that the border between Mexico and Texas be the middle of the river, following the deepest channel. This is still the border from El Paso to the Gulf of Mexico, where the Rio Grande joins the sea.

But the Rio Grande is a tricky stream and it often changes its course. In 1889, it was necessary for the United States and Mexico to set up the International Boundary and Water Commission. This organization constantly watches the tricky river and settles boundary disputes as they arise.

WOODEN-LEGGED MAN GETS KICK OUT OF BITE

ROY, N.M. (AP)—Herman O. Ogren, biologist for the New Mexico game department, was gathering wood near here when he heard a rattlesnake buzzing. He yelled and his companion, Shelly Lovrance, ran to his aid with a rifle. He killed the snake, but not before it had bitten through Ogren's shoe. Lovrance raced for the car and dashed back with a first-aid kit to find Ogren sitting calmly on a rock.

"Don't get excited," soothed Ogren. "What this fool snake sank his fangs in was a prosthetic appliance—commonly known as a wooden leg."

Lost U.S. Pair Found by Plane

EDMONTON (CP)—Two Americans missing for five days were found Tuesday. The RCAF here said Tuesday night a terse wireless report said the men, on a hunting expedition, were found at Dease Lake, 700 air miles northwest of Edmonton.

They are H. H. Koessler, Missoula, Mont., lumberman, and Dr. W. Duncan of Seattle. The air force said the two were in good shape.

Dease Lake is 43 miles west of the unnamed lake where the men had left their Cessna single-engine aircraft.

The message did not say why they had left the plane at the lake.

The float-equipped Otter took off Tuesday from Fort St. John in northeastern B.C. and flew to the lake after being grounded since Monday night at Fort St. John by poor weather.

The Cessna had been last

Art Education Lectures At Gallery

The first will be entitled "Development Stages in Children," and the second, "Teaching Child Art—Theory and Philosophy."

Adaskin, who is himself a painter of some note on the mainland, now holds the position of art specialist with the Vancouver School Board.

Octopus Plus Whale Equals Ambergris

Ambergris, base of the world's most expensive perfumes, is a product of indigestible octopus.

This is one of the many items of information which Captain Erik Revfem, Pacific Naval Overseer, Pacific Coast, gave to Kiwanians at their weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Empress Hotel.

He explained that the amber, translucent material is a cancerous growth in a whale's stomach formed over cuts inflicted by the undigested beaks of octopi.

His subject was "The Whaling Industry in the Antarctic" and in the course of his talk he conducted his listeners through the details of a typical whaling expedition to the chilly southern waters.

Captain Revfem spent five years from 1931 to 1936 on the "factory" ships and catchers.

He was aboard the Cosmos, first factory ship designed specifically for whaling when she carried Admiral Byrd's second expedition to the Antarctic at the start of the whaling season in 1933.

Fire Threatens Plateau Lodge

TOO RESPECTED

Annoyed Driver Wins Case

TORONTO (CP)—A charge of leaving the scene of an accident was dismissed Tuesday when the motorist testified he did it because he was annoyed.

Magistrate F. N. Thompson said there was not sufficient evidence that A. Gladstone House, president of United Steel Corp. Ltd., was trying to avoid criminal or civil liability.

He brushed aside defence lawyer George Finlayson's argument that the court should be reluctant to convict a man as well respected in the community as his client.

"Supposing your client was an elevator operator, would that make any difference to his guilt?" asked the magistrate.

House said he was annoyed when he left the scene of a collision with a student driver Aug. 7. He said he had two earlier near-accidents with student drivers.

CONGRATULATORY TELEGRAM RINGS THE BELL

Marilyn's Victoria Friends Send Message

Names are piling up on the telegram to be sent Marilyn Bell Saturday in time for her wedding in Alderwood, Ont.

So far, about 20 names have been added on the congratulatory note, and many more are expected.

The wire, from Canadian National Telegraph offices here, is for the charming Toronto girl who, by sheer pluck, swam the Juan de Fuca Strait in 1956.

For 10 cents anyone may add his or her name to the list of well-wishers.

The telegram reads: "May there always be smooth waters ahead for you both. Thousands of Victoria friends join in congratulations. We will never forget your epic swim across Juan de Fuca."

Already it is signed by Mayor Percy Scurrah and members of the city council, Stuart Keate, Capt. E. M. Cavin, Jack Todd and Harold Elworthy, all of who were instrumental in her successful swim, and two members of the public who dropped in at the telegraph office at 1101 Government to add their names to the list.

Deadline for names is Friday at 5 p.m.

Meanwhile a cairn is being erected near Finlayson Point in Beacon Hill Park, close to the spot where Marilyn ended the first and only swim of the treacherous strait by a woman.

On it will be a plaque bearing a likeness of Marilyn and a description of her swim. The plaque will be unveiled at a ceremony Saturday at 10 a.m., and the very time of her wedding.

Stars to 'Raid' Hollywood Date

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Film-town celebrates its 50th birthday next month by loading a plane with stars—and dropping in on 20 of the nation's largest cities.

Sponsored by the major studios, the golden jubilee is a departure from the usual exclusive wing-dings where only the elite are invited to sip champagne and nibble hors d'oeuvres.

Nor will it be one of those television specials in which viewers get toothpaste smiles and fired speeches from their favorites.

This party will have the stars meeting the public face to face. Cities scheduled for the tour are San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Salt Lake City, Denver, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Chicago, Dallas, Houston, Indianapolis, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington, Philadelphia, Boston and New York.

At each stop a parade will be whipped up, followed by wholesale entertainment provided by the junketing luminaries.

Fifty years ago when these cities were booming, Hollywood was a collection of orange groves and bean fields. And to this rural setting the late producer William N. (Colonel Billy) Selling brought this Chicago-based film company to shoot scenes for "The Count of Monte Cristo."

The picture, Hollywood's first, starred Hobart Bosworth and proved to be a hit.

Selling, impressed with the little community on the outskirts of Los Angeles, moved his polyscope company west. That was the beginning of what the film capital calls "the greatest entertainment community in the history of the world."

YOU MAY HAVE WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of these ugly pests they must be killed in the intestines where they live and multiply. And that's exactly what JAYNE'S Vermifuge does... kills Pin Worms quickly and safely. Then they are expelled from the system in a normal manner and you are free of them.

For your own sake and the health of your children and loved ones, don't put off treatment. Get started with JAYNE'S at the very first sign of Pin Worms. For once established these parasites are highly contagious and often spread through entire families.

So be sure to ask your druggist for JAYNE'S, famous for worming out kids for over one hundred years.

Party Leaders Face Going-Over At Young Liberals Pentiction Meet

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's Young Liberals will meet in Pentiction Oct. 25-27 for what is expected to be "one of the most controversial conventions in years."

"We'll be dealing with a great many highly contentious resolutions from all over the province," an executive member said today.

The party's faltering leadership will be one of the hottest issues.

The Young Liberals will try to assess the blame for their party's defeat in the last federal election and its poor show-

Police Asked To Aid Search

Greater Victoria police have been asked to assist in locating Dr. John William Cooper, 35, San Sebastian Auto Court, reported missing by his wife Monday.

Saanich police said they had not located the doctor up to noon today.

Reports of her husband's disappearance have upset Mrs. Cooper, a close friend said.

He, too, was disturbed at the invasion of privacy and said Mrs. Cooper had "had enough trouble already."

The friend said it is a strictly "private, family matter of no concern to anyone else."

B.C. Fish Catch Up During August
VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia fishermen caught $8,141,000 worth of fish in August to record an increase of 11 per cent compared with August, 1956.

The department of fisheries monthly statistical report shows the value of salmon landings was better than $1,000,000 more than last year's August figure. Heavy pink salmon runs to the Skeena and in Johnston Straits provided the bulk of the salmon catch.

MUST LIKE ELVIS—Elvis Presley's latest girl shows off a cute set of dimples and the "friendship ring" the crooner gave her as she prepares for her first movie role in Hollywood. Anita Wood, hostess on a Memphis TV show, says she and the singer haven't talked about marriage but that she wouldn't object if the subject did come up. (NEA)

MARRIAGE FIRST Cheesecake Art Not Star's Dish

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Not too long ago any gorgeous blonde who came to Hollywood for a starring role would be whisked into the photo gallery for a hot session of cheesecake. The photos would be publicized through the world, together with breathy sayings by the blonde on such matters as sex and world politics.
But now look what has happened to Gena Rowlands. She hasn't been asked to pose for leg art, though she's got admirable legs. She hasn't been photographed in a bathing suit, though she fills one very well. Not a word has been said to her about cheesecake. It's just as well.
"Because I'd say no if they asked me," she said.
Gena is a new kind of movie blonde. She can act.
She proved it on Broadway for a year and a half as the young sweetheart of Edward G. Robinson in "Middle of the Night." MGM latched onto her for movies, but she came on her own terms—two pictures a year only.
ONLY WAY
"That's the only way I would work in Hollywood," she explained. "I had offers before, but they were always for term contracts, and I couldn't see tying myself down. I'm married, and I think it's important for a husband and wife to spend as much time together as they can. This business of being apart for eight months or 10 months is no way to have a marriage."
Her husband is John Cassavetes; the bright young actor, and he is tied up to MGM for one picture a year. He and Gena try to set up their schedules so they're working in the same place.
Right now they're not. She is making "Bay the Moon" here. He is on a picture in the Virgin Islands.
"But the moment I am through, I'll join him," she said. "Then we'll go to London, where he'll finish up his picture, and we'll tour Europe together."
Gena is the lovely product of the hamlet of Cambria, Wis., the daughter of a one-time Wisconsin State senator who now is in oil in Houston, Texas.

A COLORED wildlife movie entitled "Yukon Indian Summer" will be shown by Cleveland P. Grant, American explorer and lecturer, at the Oak Bay Junior High School auditorium on Friday at 8 p.m. In the past 25 years, Mr. Grant has produced more than 25 motion picture films on the native wild birds and animals of North America. He has made frequent expeditions to the interior of the Yukon and Alaska. The movie lecture is sponsored by the Victoria Natural History Society and the Canadian Audubon Society.

(B) "THE SEVENTH SIN"
(Royal)—Sin and retribution usually form an excellent combination for good drama. But in MGM's adaptation of Somerset Maugham's "The Painted Veil," neither the sinning nor the retribution seemed very real. So, in the end, one cares little about the outcome.
Bill ("Wee Georgie") Travers and his wife Eleanor Parker live in the international section of Hong Kong. Travers is a hard-working serious doctor while wife Eleanor would make a butterfly look like a scientist in search of the fourth dimension. She's as shallow as a damp cigarette paper.
Then along comes Jean-Pierre Aumont with his debonaire charm and soon after that the sinning gets under way.
Hubby finds out, of course, and is most unused. As a matter of fact he becomes quite nasty about the whole affair. Then retribution arrives in the form of a cholera outbreak in a remote section of China.
Here the picture gets a lift as George Sanders makes his entrance as a cheerful bit of "white trash" whose outlook on life is a quaint mixture of high morals and sin. He speaks his lines with a hearty gusto, bringing vim and sparkle into an otherwise dull scene.
It is difficult to lay the cause of "The Seventh Sin's" trouble. It would seem that director Ronald Neame was so concerned with making Miss Parker appear shallow that he forgot to give her blood and a heart. Watching her walk among the dead natives it was as though a fashion model had strayed from Fifth Avenue into the jungle.

'Baby Doll' Matures Into Grown-Up Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Baby Doll is back. Carroll Baker, that is, and you would probably do well not to call her Baby Doll or you might end up with a hole in your head.
Carroll is a lovely, refreshingly frank and resolute young actress who ascended to stardom as the thumb-sucking crib sleeper in that picture about trusle goings-on in the deep southern states.
She's in Hollywood to play the daughter of a Texas land baron (Charles Bickford) who is engaged to an easterner Gregory Peck in "The Big Country." The part is pretty far removed from Baby Doll, and that's the way she planned it. "After I did 'Baby Doll,' I got a flock of scripts which offered me the same kind of role," she remarked. "I turned them all down. There is a temptation for actors who have had success with one kind of role to continue playing it. That's the easy thing to do."
"But that's not why I got into acting in the first place. If I couldn't do different things, I would quit."

Ike Changes Satchmo's Tune

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong says he may go to Russia after all. After hearing President Eisenhower's televised explanation of why he sent troops to Arkansas, the negro trumpet player Tuesday night declared: "Things are looking better than they did before."

Armstrong had planned to make a government-sponsored tour of Russia but cancelled it in bitterness when the school integration problem developed in Arkansas this month.

After the speech by the president, whom Armstrong had criticized previously, Satchmo said he wired the president: "If you decide to walk into the schools with the little colored kids, take me along daddy. God bless you."

Armstrong heard the speech while here to play a concert. "It was just wonderful the way he explained it. It was all in good faith," he said.

"All I want to do is blow that horn," Armstrong insisted. "Music puts everybody in good spirits."

Victoria Daily Times WEDNESDAY, SEPT 25, 1957 35

A 22-YEAR-OLD Victoria-born UBC student, Marcus Bell (centre) has been awarded one of the three fellowships by the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association. He plans to study for a year at Yale before returning to UBC for further work in ecology. With Mr. Bell are two other winners: Richard M. Smith, 23, Vernon, and William J. Bloomberg, 34, Vancouver.

RCAF Studies Partial Cut of Europe Division

OTTAWA (CP)—The defence department is studying possible partial dissolution of the RCAF's No. 1 Air Division in Europe.

The division comprises 12 squadrons of jet fighter planes—eight squadrons of single-engine Sabres and four squadrons of twin-engine CF-100s.

Informants list these factors in the department's consideration of the matter:

1. Gen. Lauris Norstad, Supreme Allied commander in Europe, is recommending gradual and partial replacement of jet interceptors with guided missiles.

2. The Sabre is reaching the end of its useful life. It is a subsonic day fighter which operates at only fairly high altitude.

3. NATO staff officers believe that if Russia launched an attack against Europe it would employ missiles and low-flying fighter-bombers which the Sabres could not intercept.

4. The defence department wants to cut costs where possible.

No major cuts are likely in the current fiscal year ending next March 31 but they are a possibility for 1958-59.

5. The RCAF has no plans for replacement of the Sabre with a more modern manned interceptor.

6. The Sabre is not considered suitable for air defences in Canada because of its short range. And the range of the CF-100 is suffering because of modifications to increase the jet's altitude capability.

GROUND FORCES EMPHASIS

The way things look now, the Canadian Infantry Brigade Group in Europe will be around longer than the RCAF air division there.

NATO is still placing heavy emphasis on maintenance of ground forces in Europe. Gen. Norstad wants 30 divisions in the European shield but NATO now has only about half this number.

Hoffa Indicted On 5 Counts Of Perjury

NEW YORK (AP)—James R. Hoffa, vice-president of the Teamsters' Union, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on five counts of perjury.

The indictment charged that the 44-year-old union leader, a candidate for the presidency of the teamsters to succeed Dave Beck, lied to a grand jury during its probe into alleged wire-tapping of teamster union headquarters in Detroit.

The grand jury also indicted Benjamin Franklin Collins, secretary-treasurer of local 299, which is headed by Hoffa. It accused him of 12 counts of perjury in connection with the same investigation.

Convicts on Payroll Of Teamsters' Union?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators called for testimony today on reports that James R. Hoffa kept on a local union's payroll some teamsters officials serving prison terms for extortion.

The story, as related by committee aides, involved testimony Local 614 at Pontiac, Mich., which they said Hoffa took over as trustee.

Details of a teamsters union loan to a Minneapolis department store and of Hoffa's own interest in a horse race betting partnership were other scheduled subjects of testimony as the committee continued its investigation into activities of the Midwest teamsters boss.

Hoffa has testified he draws $5,000 to $10,000 a year from betting on horse races in partnership with Owen Bert Brennan, a Detroit teamster official. Brennan has been summoned as a witness.

Committee chairman John McClellan (Dem. Ark.) announced he has arranged for an independent doctor to check on what was tentatively diagnosed as a heart attack suffered by Benjamin Dranow. Dranow heads the John W. Thomas Department Store in Minneapolis, which allegedly received a $1,000,000 loan of teamster funds from Hoffa to help it ride out and recover from a strike by the Retail Clerks Union.

Dranow's own doctor has said that whether the store executive can appear as a witness will depend on the results of laboratory and clinical tests. Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said he regards Dranow as "a vital witness" who will be called sooner or later to tell about the loan. Meantime, he said, testimony will be taken from others.

LEGITIMATE INVESTMENT
In Miami Beach, Fla., where he is campaigning for the union's international presidency, Hoffa described the loan as a perfectly legitimate investment of pension funds.

Hoffa took occasion also to challenge the committee's contention that he is not a legally qualified delegate to the union's convention opening Monday.

Wreck Hints Fate Of Lost B.C. Family

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (AP)—Burned wreckage of a light plane was spotted by a helicopter pilot today in Stampede

Pass, along the route followed by a Duncan, B.C., family missing since May 19.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration began an immediate check to determine if the wreckage was that of the plane carrying Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wall and their eight-year-old son, Glenn.

Wall, a Duncan contractor, took off in his private plane here with his family May 19 en route to Everett on a flight home. They disappeared over the Cascades.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Gracious God, come very near today to those in pain or lingering illness. May faith be strengthened to the end that health may be fully restored. And where nights are long and days full of weariness, may Thy unfailing grace comfort and sustain; through Christ. Amen.

Easier Voting Proposal By Victoria Wins Support

By PETE LOUDON
Times Staff Reporter

NELSON—This pretty mountain town, centre of the West Kootenay area, is bursting at the seams today with 620 delegates and guests to the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention. Ten hotels are wearing "no vacancy" signs and auto courts are filled for miles around.

Many of the 20-man Greater Victoria delegation are sharing rooms and rising early to join lineups at showers.

At its session this morning the convention upheld resolutions submitted by Victoria aimed at easing civic voting regulations.

The convention agreed to ask the provincial government to amend the Municipal Act so that persons omitted in error from voters lists may have their names restored by the returning officer at the polls.

The convention also supported elimination of a regulation requiring municipalities to mail notices to tenant elector and resident electors advising they must confirm voting qualification each year.

Municipal Affairs Minister Wesley Black addressing the convention said he does not accept the view that "more and more charges" should be transferred to the province from municipal budgets.

He said: "Provincial revenues, while being very large, are still not beyond our requirements, the assumption that the province can continue to absorb any amount of charges is entirely wrong."

HAMBURG, Germany (UP)—The report that the U.S. naval transport Geiger had picked up 40 more survivors from the sunken German training ship Pamir brought short-lived joy to the nation today.

In a radio message picked up by a German coastal radio station, the captain of the Geiger said the only Pamir survivors he had aboard were the five rescued by the U.S. freighter Saxon and transferred to the Geiger Monday.

He said it was not the government's intention that any particular tax should be raised to unreasonable levels.

"But," he added, "the municipalities should not try to shirk their responsibilities in this joint effort."

"We must all strive to utilize the various taxes under our respective jurisdictions so that no one tax will be carried beyond an equitable level in relation to the other taxes."

Threat Against Queen On U.S. Visit Hinted

LONDON (UP)—The London Evening Standard said today that a British nobleman reported to Scotland Yard a plot to kill Queen Elizabeth during her North American tour next month.

Scotland Yard refused to confirm the report when asked about it by United Press.

"We never discuss security matters," a spokesman said. The newspaper said Lady Patricia Fairweather, sister of the Earl of Inchope, heard about the threat in a conversation she overheard during a recent trip to Barcelona, Spain.

The Standard said Lady Patricia, 41, told Field Marshal Sir Gerald Templer, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, of the conversation. He immediately contacted top security officers at Scotland Yard, the newspaper said.

Top Yard officials are known to have spent some time in the United States and Canada checking on security arrangements for the Queen's visit. Chief Superintendent Leon Burt, who usually handles royal security, is believed to be in New York at the moment.

RCMP Men 'Punks' Sneers Gagliardi

SASKATOON (CP)—Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi of B.C. today described reports he was driving at 85 to 100 miles an hour when stopped recently by RCMP as "a pack of trash" and said the officers who flagged him down looked like "a couple of punks."

"They were coming up behind me in a Pontiac and they weren't even wearing ties. They tried to pass me on a curve. I was going about 60 miles an hour," the minister said in an interview.

Mr. Gagliardi, here to attend a Good Roads Association convention, said the incident occurred last month when he was testing curves on a stretch of new B.C. highway between Savona and Kamloops.

He paid a $10 fine Sept. 10 in Kamloops.

Two White Men Hurt by Troops

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Hard-eyed paratroopers, in battle dress and with bayonets at the ready, brought nine Negro students quietly into Central High School today in a new climax to the hate-filled struggle over integration in Little Rock.

One man was clubbed and another stabbed in the arm by the soldiers in fights that followed.

A few white students left the school after the Negroes entered, but there was no sign of a mass exodus. A school official said 1,250 students were in class today, making 750 absentees. It was 50 more than Tuesday when it was known the Negroes would not appear.

About two hours after the Negro students entered, the school grounds suddenly filled with students and teachers. Reporters said they were told it was a fire drill, but there was another report that police were investigating a report of a bomb in the school.

Two Negro girls, Thelma Mothershead and Minnie Brown, came out with the white students.

Minnie Brown walked beside a blonde white student. They were talking together and laughing.

A reporter called from across the street: "Are you making any friends, Minnie?"

"Quite a few," the girl called back, flashing a smile. Thelma Mothershead was with one of the teachers, talking.

The white students were laughing and joking with the paratroopers as they waited on the lawn.

The students went back into the school 30 minutes after they came out. There was no definite word as to why they were sent outside.

A teacher said: "We were told it was just a fire drill." Asking not to be identified, she said:

"The Negroes seem to be getting along very well with all the other students. There is no trouble."

She said paratroopers in the building were on hand outside the classrooms to escort the Negroes when classes changed. In an arc two blocks wide around the high school, the paratroopers kept breaking up clusters of people, moving them back, herding them onto porches and keeping the area clear.

They moved with swift, purposeful actions. It was in these operations that the two men were injured. C. E. Blake, 46, a railroad employee, tried to grab a paratrooper's rifle, soldiers said. The trooper, quickly reversing it, struck Blake over the eye with the butt. He fell to the street but did not appear seriously injured.

Paul Downs, of Springfield, Ark., got a bayonet cut in the arm apparently when he was too slow obeying an order. Jess Mathews, principal of the high school, reported "everything is calm inside the school."

Soldiers Answer Call Fast

The people did not move. They were not menacing. They said nothing. But they did not move.

Meyer called for two platoons. Almost instantly, the helmeted soldiers came dog-trotting down the street, rifles held across their chests.

Breaking into a run, the soldiers separated. One group headed for the crowd on the sidewalk, the other moved in on the people on the lawn.

They did not appear to touch the people with the bayonets. But they forced those on the sidewalk far down the street. Those on the lawn were herded into the porch.

The people were curiously silent. There was some muttering, but no shouting or real noise. They kept falling back.

Then, suddenly, at the south end of the school, the barricades parted and an army station wagon rolled through, with jeeps ahead and behind.

Shouts broke out: "There they come."

The Negro students were in the station wagon with an army officer.

The car came to a stop opposite the front entrance of the school, inside the line of paratroopers. The students got out quietly.

160 Taken Off Grounded Ship

LISBON, Portugal (Reuters)—The British liner Hildebrand ran aground near Cascais on the Portuguese coast today and its 160 passengers were taken off.

The 7,735-ton liner was said to be listing dangerously.

Again, without hurrying, they never before has been taken in the integration struggle.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the senate southern bloc, assailed the use of troops as "totalitarian." He predicted the president's order will have "a calamitous effect on race relations and on the cause of national unity."

A number of southern governors and political leaders, including so-called "moderates," expressed grave concern over the use of federal troops. Some denounced it as dictatorship.

Others expressed the view that Eisenhower had to send in the troops to prevent future defiance of the courts.

If Eisenhower was disturbed by the southern criticism he gave no outward sign during his 13-minute speech, delivered in a solemn and unsmiling manner.

In measured tones he outlined the seriousness of the Little Rock situation and said unless he had acted "anarchy would result."

Castigating the crowds that blocked Negro attendance at school as "disorderly mobs" led by "demagogic extremists," the president declared: "Mob rule cannot be allowed to override the decisions of our courts."

Imperial Oil Seeking Huge Tax Refund

TORONTO (CP)—The Star says Imperial Oil Limited is seeking in an appeal before the Exchequer Court of Canada a refund of $19,000,000 on income tax payments in the years 1951, 1952, and 1953.

The paper says the appeal is based on Imperial's claim for higher allowances in those years for depletion allowances granted all extraction industries.

"By forcing the oil companies to lump together their good producers along with their 'dry-hole' wells to arrive at the depletion figure, the large oil companies maintain, the tax legislation discriminates against producers who engage in extensive exploration for new wells, the Star says.

The story adds should Imperial win its case, "the total amount of tax rebates claimed from all sections of Canada's mushrooming oil industry could amount to $100,000,000."

Minister Against Subsidized Teachers

Subsidized teacher training is not the best solution to the teacher shortage problem, in the opinion of Education Minister Leslie Peterson.

"If we fully subsidized teacher training we might get more students but I doubt if they would all be desirable additions to the profession," the minister told the B.C. School Trustees' Association convention Tuesday.

He was commenting on a financial assistance plan put forward by the trustees' teacher recruitment committee. Under this plan financial assistance would be shared by the provincial government and school boards.

"Last year," said the minister, "we gave $285,000 in student loans and bursaries. We would like to give enough money so anyone who wants to train as a teacher would not be denied the chance."

From outside, the school appeared completely quiet. There were no parents trying to get through the line of soldiers, children who attend the school said there appeared to be an organized campaign Tuesday night to keep as many as possible from going there today.

"I had a half dozen calls from people telling me not to show up today," a student said. "I told them I did not know what I would do."

"They said: 'There's going to be trouble. It won't be safe there today.'"

The student, a girl, said she understood some of her friends were going to wait until noon and then, depending on the situation, go to school in the afternoon.

It was supremely quiet. But among the people nearby—many of whom had been dispersed by the troops—was heard, over and over again: "Let 'em do what they want now."

"But they can't keep those soldiers here indefinitely and the minute they're gone you'll see—"

EISENHOWER SOMETHING IN THE AIR

"relieve local and state authorities of their primary duty to preserve peace and order." He said they are in Little Rock solely to prevent interference with the integration orders issued by federal judge Ronald N. Davies.

He did not refer to Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus who blocked school integration in Little Rock three weeks ago by ordering out the National Guard. But he said:

"Under the leadership of demagogic extremists, disorderly mobs have deliberately prevented the carrying out of proper orders from a federal court. Local authorities have not eliminated that violent opposition."

Eisenhower, who said in July he couldn't imagine any circumstances in which he would use troops to protect civil rights, told the radio-TV audience:

"This challenge must be met with such measures as will preserve to the people as a whole their lawfully-protected rights in a climate permitting their free and fair exercise," he declared.

"When large gatherings of obstructionists made it impossible for the degree of the court to be carried out, both the law and the national interest demanded that the president take action," Eisenhower said.

Russian Bear Makes Senator's Face Red

PARIS (AP)—Senator

Andre Boutemy came home from a trip to Moscow Tuesday, went through customs at the airport and got into a taxicab.

An airline hostess came running out and asked the senator what he wanted to do with the bear. Boutemy tried to smile off this bit of pleasantry but the hostess was insistent.

The red-faced senator said he supposed his Russian hosts had made him a present of this bear and neglected to tell him.

Boutemy had the bear shipped off to his home until he can figure out what to do with it.

Land Sale for Elderly Wins City Approval

City council has authorized the sale of property on Harriet Road for a big housing project for senior citizens sponsored by the United Church, it was announced today.

Sale of the five-acre property is to the Gorge View Society. Price: $15,000.

Construction will start soon, and will proceed as speedily as funds become available.

The project will consist of 60 low-rent units for married couples and 12 for single persons. The proportion of married to single units may be adjusted as construction proceeds and circumstances change.

The whole plan will remain flexible.

Committee chairman Mrs. F. H. Parsons is appointing an executive, and sub-committee chairman will be named later.

Operation of the project will be under control of the Gorge View Society which is incorporated under the Societies Act and sponsored by the Victoria United Church Presbytery.

Architect for the plan is Charles E. Craig, and W. T. Straith QC is providing legal supervision and advice.

Blind Housing Tenders Due In October

Tenders for a $120,000 low-rent housing development for the blind will be called in mid-October, Eric Brettell, Victoria director for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, said today.

Construction, originally scheduled for October, probably will be delayed until next March, Mr. Brettell said, "because there is quite a bit of clearing and leveling to be done first."

The development on the north side of Humboldt between Rupert and Vancouver streets will provide 14 units in four single-story buildings. There will be accommodation for 10 couples and four single persons.

MD Fee Increase Supported Here

A 15-per-cent increase in doctors' fees throughout British Columbia will bring doctors' earnings up to the level of TV repairmen, plumbers and electricians, a Victoria physician said today.

He stated emphatically that doctors are now earning less than skilled tradesmen having regard to the cost of training and equipment required.

Other local doctors supported this view, although they have not yet been officially advised of the increases approved at a B.C. Medical Association meeting in Vancouver and announced Tuesday night.

Under the new list of approved doctors' fees the first home visit will cost $8 instead of $6 and office visits will go up to $10 from $7 where a full medical examination is involved.

MSA INCREASE

It is expected that premiums paid by employees under the Medical Services Association also will be increased. But a spokesman for the MSA in Vancouver said no such increase has yet been ordered.

"Our directors have not yet considered the matter," he said. Victoria doctors say the higher fees are in line with increased costs of office and medical equipment, and some drugs which are not charged to the patient.

"I understand TV repairmen charge $5 for the initial examination of a set which goes out of order," one doctor said.

"VERY LOW"

"By comparison, $6 for the first home visit by a qualified physician is very low indeed. With all respect to the TV man, his training is not as costly as ours and he is not required to give service as promptly."

"Much the same applies to plumbers and electricians. Their work is important but their training is less expensive than a doctor's and the pressure on a doctor is greater."

He pointed out that doctors receive much less than the standard fees where social welfare cases are concerned—often as little as $1.70 for a home call.

A spokesman for the B.C. Medical Association said the new $10 fee for office visits will apply only where a full medical examination is required.

"In many cases," he said, "the doctor makes a brief call on the patient at his home and later calls him in for a full examination."

"This examination naturally takes up much more of the doctor's time."

Asiatic Flu Vaccine Due Here Next Week

Vaccine to combat Asiatic influenza which is rapidly spreading throughout Canada is expected to arrive in Victoria early next week, Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy, Victoria-Esquamalt Medical Health officer, said today.

The vaccine, she said, was now on its way from Connaught Laboratories in Toronto and would be allocated to essential services as soon as it arrived here.

She said only about 4,000 employees and employees in essential services, such as the B.C. Electric Co., the City Fire Department, police, hospitals and doctors would receive the vaccine.

"We are fully organized to allocate the vaccine as soon as it reaches the city," she said.

At the same time, Dr. Mahaffy announced that starting next month medical health officers will start inoculating several hundred school children who have not yet been immunized against polio.

POLIO SHOTS

Shipments of Salk vaccine were due to arrive in Victoria any time now, she said, for the polio immunization program.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. At what age does the normal child reach the peak of mental ability? J.E.

A. This is reached about the age of 15. When a child reaches this peak of mental development he can solve most problems, if he has the necessary training and experience, that he can hope to solve in adult life. Though skills and wisdom increase later, he is not likely to increase the ability to learn.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor, Question and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

Bread Firms Curtailing Deliveries

Rising Costs Cause of Move

Two large city bakeries will join a third in eliminating Wednesday bread deliveries to stores.

McGavin Bakeries Ltd. will start the curtailed schedule next week. Canadian Bakeries Ltd. will follow suit in a "week or so" a spokesman said today.

The third bakery, Weston Bakeries Ltd., eliminated Wednesday deliveries three years ago when it went into the wholesale business exclusively.

Canadian Bakeries, which produces Fourx Toastmaster bread, also is experimenting with no-Wednesday deliveries on house-to-house routes, but has not made a policy decision on this aspect yet.

"We are still in the throes of experimentation," a company official said. He added, however, that the company's Vancouver branch went on a five-day delivery schedule two months ago.

McGavin's is not contemplating curtailment of household deliveries at present.

If no-Wednesday bread deliveries to homes are inaugurated, they will follow the precedent set this week by the city's four major milk distributors.

CITY STEAMER RESCUES TWO

The CPR Steamship Princess Elizabeth picked up two fishermen this morning after their vessel hit a log and sank off Point Grey, near Vancouver.

The rescue co-ordination centre here received a distress call from the Yuri M. as it was going down.

The two men, Bill Tinsley and skipper Percy Howes, both of Vancouver, scrambled into a dinghy as the fish packer went under.

The Princess Elizabeth was attracted to them by a flashlight while on its run to Victoria from Vancouver.

Giant Airlift Brings Tubing For Tanker

A king-size airlift of eight and a half tons of steel tubing is being rushed to Yarrow from Buffalo, N.Y.

First plane load of four tons is due to arrive at Patricia Bay airport Thursday morning. The second plane load probably will arrive several hours later.

Hourly contact is being maintained between Yarrow and the Flying Tiger Line to expedite the shipment, ordered when unexpected repairs were needed for the super-tanker Andros Sailor now in government graving dock.

"It's the biggest airlift we've ever had," a Yarrow official said. "In the past we have had materials flown in from all over the world when needed but 1,200 pounds was the largest shipment until now."

FORMER TIGERS

The tubing is needed for replacing the super-heater tubes in the 44,000-ton oil tanker's steam system.

Types of aircraft being used to fly in the tubes is not known. The Flying Tiger Line, an air cargo service, was organized by former members of the famed "Flying Tiger" fighter group that fought in China against the Japanese under command of Gen. Claire Chennault.

Rail shipment of the materials would take two weeks, too high a price when computing lost payload time for the Monrovia-registered tanker of the Ryan Line.

The eighth super-tanker handled by Yarrow this year, she came into port Sept. 12 for annual repairs. She will be ready for sea duty in about eight days after the tubes arrive.

Police Seek Driver of Crashed Car

Driver of a car which rolled over after colliding with an auto it tried to overtake on a Gorge Road hill at 11:25 p.m. Tuesday was sought by Saanich police today.

According to witnesses, the driver and a passenger climbed out of the car "groggily" and ran away when someone shouted to them and began chasing them.

Owner of the car was picked up a short time later, but he was not the driver at the time of the accident, police said.

Accident happened west of Harriet as the unidentified driver proceeded east, uphill, passing a car driven by Alice Doreen Robertson, 3234 Admirals, which travelled in the same direction.

A. E. Hughes, of California, was driving west from the crest of the hill, pulled off the road to avoid a head-on collision with the passing car, which sideswiped the Robertson car and overturned.

W. C. Mainwaring, Gordon Shrum, On Europe Trip

Dr. Gordon Shrum, director of the B.C. Research Council, and W. C. Mainwaring, president of Western Development and Power Corporation, will accompany Attorney-General Robert Bonner on his four-week trade visit to Europe starting next Monday. It was announced this afternoon.

Veterans Ask City Aid For Convention

City Council will be asked by Victoria Unit No. 12, Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans of Canada, for financial assistance to entertain some 300 veterans who will be coming to British Columbia next year to attend a national biennial convention.

The local unit in a letter to the city said the veterans will be attending a five-day convention in Vancouver next September. It was planned to invite them to Victoria during their stay in the province.

New Westminster City Council, the letter said, had already voted $300 to bring the delegates to that city. The Victoria Unit felt it was in the interest of the city to make a similar donation to assist in bringing the delegates here.

Vic College Night Classes Reach New Peak

Professor R. T. Wallace, director, Victoria College Evening Division said today the number of people registered for the five credit courses offered this year is the highest since the inception of the course.

One hundred and twenty-four students are registered to date but Professor Wallace said that there is still room for more.

Those wishing to obtain credit for these courses and who have not already registered, he said, will have an opportunity to do so on Thursday at 8 p.m.

Courses being offered are English 100, 101, 200 and 427, Geography 303, and Education 461.

In addition to the above courses History 203 will be given by Mr. Reginald H. Roy a U.B.C. graduate.

This covers the history of Canada west of the Great Lakes with special emphasis on B.C.; it should prove of particular interest in view of the coming centenary.

Registrations for this course will also be taken Thursday 8 p.m.

MOURNING FOR KING OBSERVED

All social functions by Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross and Mrs. Ross have been cancelled to Oct 4 in court mourning, as observed in Buckingham Palace, for the late King Haakon of Norway.

Mourning started the day he died, Sept. 21.

Official ceremonies will still be attended, as will functions in relation to charitable enterprises, but nothing of a social nature.

Island Aldermen Seek New Terms Next December

Two Vancouver Island aldermen chose the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention corridor caucuses at Nelson today to announce their candidacy in December civic elections.

Ald. M. H. Mooney of Victoria and Ald. William Moore of Courtenay both said they would stand again for office.

Ald. Mooney was first elected in 1951 and has served since then except for a one-year interval. Ald. Moore is a former CCF MLA for Comox.

Pierre Pays Us a Visit

Pierre Berton, who looks like a football tackle and writes like a mischievous angel, blew in for a look at the old home town yesterday.

The quality that has made Berton a crack managing editor (of Maclean's magazine) is boundless curiosity, and an almost frightening enthusiasm for life, in its infinite variety.

"Look at those flowers!" he shouted.

"I'm going to have a garden just like that!" he exclaimed.

"Got three acres at Klineburg, outside Toronto. Two flowers 120 feet long."

"In fact, I've got a 16-foot garden in my living-room."

"In your living-room?" I asked.

"Yes, damned tootin'," he cried. "Built a new living-room since you were there. It's great. Stuff growing right out of the floor. Wish the season was like it is here. Brother!"

I reminded Pierre, gently, that the last time I visited him he was doing research

MONTE ROBERTS

There is a rule which this space tries very hard to adhere to, and that rule is to the effect this space is off limits to poetry in any shape or form.

But the following sneaked by for two reasons:

1. Mr. Gagliardi's brush with the law over the matter of speeding seemed to call for something out of the ordinary.

2. It is doubtful if the following can be called poetry, in any shape or form.

Here's to B.C.'s pride and joy,
He knows what we've been needing.
The thrills, the jolts that cannot cloy,
The kicks that come from speeding.

He builds our highways straight and true,
With curves of course for corners,
And hopes the drivers will eschew
The wrecks, the writs, the mourners.

And then in tones devoid of wrath
Symbolic of his piety,
He tells us all to drive the path,
Of S.C. and sobriety.

So raise your mugs (replete with milk)
And toast all men as hardy,
May B.C. ever breed the ilk,
Of Phillip A. Gagliardi.

Or, as the nonpoet might put it, now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of Gagliardi.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Word 'Christmas' Brings Thought of Gifts to Fore

By PENNY SAVER

Don't collapse, but there are only 76 shopping days till Christmas! Just 10 weeks to the big day, and oh what a day! If you're a wise owl, then no doubt you have already broken the back of the long and tiresome ordeal of buying for your family and friends.

If you haven't approached the shops with a "Santa Claus" look in your eye, then try it. What a smug feeling you will have when all your friends are steaming around two days before Christmas wondering what to buy for baby sister, Aunt Lottie in Ireland and husband Mac!

Begorra! Hurrah to the Irish! Everything they produce tops the list for quality, and their linen is no exception. Because of this, I nearly fainted when by curious eyes fell on some beautiful table sets for just $7.98. Any woman would be delighted to receive one, I know.

Ooh! These are the prettiest! If you want to see your teenage daughter go into ecstasies, then here's a way. Wide, wide velvet belts studded with brilliant for evening or special daytime wear are priced at $3.95. They're so lovely that any plain, basic dress will look like a million dollars belted with one.

Is that man of yours a square dancer? Or does he go in for bright colors? Well, how ties with long ribbons decorated in red, blue and yellow flowers would be the gift for him. They clip on for just 95 cents.

Men, if you're a sports car type, then the British felt hats that look so Continental have wormed their way into our windy Victoria. Avacado green, beige and chocolate shades give these flat tops a cute touch. Pull them down, and your eyes are warm! Christmas is coming, here they are at $2.95.

Ja! This dachshund is das saiz! A long, long German sausage dog salt shaker which would make the sweetest little present for anyone at 49 cents.

With winter on its way, your tooties will be freezing when you come in from the cold. But we know where you can find some toe warmers that will keep your feet warm like hot rolls! Made of terry cloth and nylon, you can slip them on in a jiff and they cost you only 69 cents. Buy half a dozen pairs of these slippers to give as gifts to your best friends and they'll love you.

Hope you find some suggestions for your early Yuletide shopping in this column today. If you did, and you want to know where I saw these items, my phone number is 2-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Worry Is Detriment To Our Mental Health

Mental health is of the greatest importance to all of us. It not only affects our happiness but our health, and even our looks. Jealousy, anger, envy, cattiness, depression—all have their damaging influence, but perhaps worry is the greatest saboteur of them all.

Worry saps a tremendous amount of energy. This can make one feel exhausted when there is no real physical difficulty. It actually can cause illness.

It also gives us wrinkles and a drooping facial contour. It may even show in our walk and posture. It is something none of us can afford; once it gets into our outlook it can be a vicious and tenacious habit. It takes real effort to break the worry habit—but it can be done!

A sense of humor is most helpful. We must also learn to execute mental and emotional outbursts in times of unhappiness if we are to survive. The realization that our problems and disappointments are no worse, and not as bad, as those of many others, helps.

Life is wonderful but it is rugged, and full of risks to life, limb and happiness. Perhaps some folks sail through life without any problems or any complications, but I doubt it!

Most people are under financial strain from maturity all through life and are attacked by stresses from all sides. They are pulled this way and that by their loyalties and obligations, their desires and dreams. Even if there is plenty of money there are apt to be emotional difficulties. Life isn't easy for anyone all of the time.

It seems to me that it would be helpful if we could keep this in mind. It would make us more tolerant to remember that most of the thoughtlessness, rudeness or cussedness we meet come from inner turmoil on the part of the offender or from poor health. This alone would relieve us of many a negative emotion.

If you would like to have my leaflet which gives you psychological suggestions on how to end the worry habit send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 64, "Worry," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Fish filets may look anonymous but they certainly won't taste anonymous if served with this tangy, lemon-flavored sauce. Blend ½ cup of mayonnaise with 2 tablespoons of flour and 1 cup of milk. Cook and stir over water until thickened, then stir in 1 tablespoon of lemon juice, 1 teaspoon of grated lemon rind, ¼ teaspoon of salt and 1 tablespoon of chopped parsley. Very special with baked or steamed filets of sole.

You Can Make Four Basic Costumes Travel In 24 Different Ensembles

By KITTY DIXON

What to take? That's the question that hounds every potential traveler. She knows she must cut her wardrobe to the barest minimum, but how to do it is the problem.

Well, Carol Lane has all the answers. Travel is her business. She actually lives out of a suitcase, so what better authority could there be?

Travel director for a large oil company, auburn-haired Carol lectures from coast to coast on all phases of travel in Canada by car.

But it's her talk on "what to take and how to pack it" that's getting keenest reactions from her feminine listeners.

In 10 minutes she packs (without cramming) 43 items into a 21-inch suitcase... enough for a two-week holiday. "I have a four-basic-costume wardrobe that mixes and matches into 24 different ensembles!" says Carol, who feels that a little thought in planning saves you from those frustrating "what can I wear?" days while travelling.

Here are the four basic costumes:

1. Carol calls it her "rugged life costume." For motoring, lounging and sports she wears a classic blouse with short or pedal pushers (pedal pushers are easier to pack than slacks).

2. Two-piece print "day or night" dress... a full, unpressed pleated skirt with 2-way blouse (neckline can be worn low or demure). Make this a cheerful color.

3. Three-piece spectator sports ensemble. Top in bright color should be strapless or halter, with circular skirt and bolero which can be slipped on, on cool evenings.

4. The travel suit... a must. Choose a light-weight wool and orlon fabric for wonderful crease-resistant results.

Carol suggests a style with deep armholes and rounded shoulders for ease if you are driving.

"There you are!" she smiles. "With accessories, you have 24 different outfits!"

Carol's hat is one that packs flat... can be worn countless different ways.

She feels color is most important when choosing a travel wardrobe.

First, select a basic, neutral color, such as grey or beige, and contrast it with a dark color

(Carol uses black) and a bright color.

"Shall I take a formal?" you may ask.

"No," is Carol's answer. "Not unless you have some specific affair to attend."

A survey taken recently shows that only one per cent of women travellers needed an evening dress on their trips.

As a compromise, Carol is ready with the full skirt of her number two costume, which she wears with a strapless top, an uncrushable nylon velvet cummerbund (black) and a matching velvet stole, lined with the same fabric as the dress.

"It's really very attractive and all I need," she maintains.

For Carol Lane's versatile hat pattern or her traveller's check list, you may phone or write The Victoria Daily Times Women's Department and we'll tell you where to send for them.

Tomorrow: How Carol packs her wardrobe in one small suitcase!

TEA-POURING PATTERS

I have been asked to pour at a tressau tea and would like to know how to do it correctly. Is it permissible to visit with the guests while presiding at the table and when not momentarily busy? Please tell me anything else I should know for this kind of a party.

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

Just be natural and at the same time give the guests what they want. Yes, it is permissible to visit with the guests during any lull in pouring. You can even do a little visiting while pouring, providing it doesn't interfere with what you are doing.

When you Louise Davis arrive at the party, ask your hostess for any special instructions, but I doubt if there will be any, for she will have all of the equipment ready. Before pouring tea in a cup, ask each guest how she likes it, whether weak or strong, whether she would like sugar, cream or lemon. See that the filled cup is on its saucer or on a plate (whichever way the hostess has planned), and place a teaspoon on the saucer unless there are spoons already arranged on the table. When and if the teapot needs replenishing, indicate to your hostess, an assistant hostess or a maid that a new supply is needed. As far as a tressau tea is concerned, there isn't any difference between that and any other kind of tea as far as the table appointments and pouring are concerned. It is considered an honor to pour tea, so be sure to thank your hostess for asking you.

Man Hangs Self

MONTREAL (CP)—Provincial police said today a man hanged himself in a hotel room after apparently failing to take his life with a razor.

CLUBBED MAN LED FROM SCENE

Stunned and bleeding from head wounds, a Little Rock man identified as C. E. Blake is assisted by on-lookers while a trooper at right urges him along with the butt of his gun. He was clubbed when trying to grab a soldier's rifle near school, after Negro students were escorted into classes. (AP Wirephoto.)

Two Whites Hurt
By Troops
In Angry Clashes

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Hard-eyed paratroopers, in battle dress and with bayonets at the ready, brought nine Negro students quietly into Central High School today in a new climax to the hate-filled struggle over integration in Little Rock.

One man was clubbed and another stabbed in the arm by the soldiers in fights that followed.

A few white students left the school after the Negroes entered, but there was no sign of a mass exodus. A school official said 1,250 students were in class today, making 750 absentees.

It was 50 more than Tuesday when it was known the Negroes would not appear. About two hours after the Negro students entered, the school grounds suddenly filled with students and teachers.

Reporters said they were told it was a fire drill, but there was another report that police were investigating a report of a bomb in the school.

Two Negro girls, Thelma Mothershead and Minnie Brown, came out with the white students.

Minnie Brown walked beside a blonde white student. They were talking together and laughing.

A reporter called from across the street: "Are you making any friends, Minnie?"

"Quite a few," the girl called back, flashing a smile. Thelma Mothershead was with one of the teachers, talking.

The white students were laughing and joking with the paratroopers as they waited on the lawn.

The students went back into the school 30 minutes after they came out. There was no definite word as to why they were sent outside.

A teacher said: "We were told it was just a fire drill." Asking not to be identified, she said:

Troopers Guard Classrooms
The Negroes seem to be getting along very well with all the other students. There is no trouble.

She said paratroopers in the building were on hand outside the classrooms to escort the Negroes when classes changed.

In an arc two blocks wide around the high school, the paratroopers kept breaking up clusters of people, moving them back, herding them onto porches and keeping the area clear.

They moved with swift, purposeful actions. It was in these operations that the two men were injured.

C. E. Blake, 46, a railroad employee, tried to grab a paratrooper's rifle, soldiers said. The trooper, quickly reversing it, struck Blake over the eye with the butt. He fell to the street but did not appear seriously injured.

Paul Downs, of Springfield, Ark., got a bayonet cut in the arm apparently when he was too slow obeying an order.

The only excitement now, by contrast to the wild riot that broke out Monday when the Negroes went through a side door, came from the scurrying of scores of reporters and cameramen, trying to get near the scene.

Paratroopers kept yelling: "Back . . . back on the sidewalk." At the same time, as they had done with the bystanders earlier.

The two incidents in which Blake and Downs were injured, took place later.

The soldiers had everything under such iron control that there appeared to be no room for a major incident.

Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, the commander of the troops, addressed the whole student body.

He said "I intend to use all means necessary to prevent any interference with the execution Continued on Page 2

Threat on Queen
In U.S. Hinted
LONDON (UP)—The London Evening Standard said today that a British nobleman reported to Scotland Yard a plot to kill Queen Elizabeth during her North American tour next month.

Scotland Yard refused to confirm the report when asked about it by United Press. "We never discuss security matters," a spokesman said.

The newspaper said Lady Patricia Fairweather, sister of the Earl of Incheape, heard about the threat in a conversation she overheard during a recent trip to Barcelona, Spain.

The Standard said Lady Patricia, 41, told Field Marshal Sir Gerald Templer, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, of the conversation. He immediately contacted top security officers at Scotland Yard, the newspaper said.

Top Yard officials are known to have spent some time in the

'Remove Hoffa'
Order Issued
By AFL-CIO

NEW YORK (UP)—The AFL-CIO executive council today in effect ordered the teamsters union to remove James R. Hoffa from any union office within 30 days or face possible suspension from the federation.

The council also indicated to its largest affiliate that it must throw out retiring president Dave Beck, and vice-presidents Frank Browster, Seattle, and Sidney L. Brennan, Minneapolis.

NEW YORK (AP)—James R. Hoffa, vice-president of the Teamsters' Union, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on five counts of perjury.

Convicts on Payroll
Of Teamsters' Union?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators called for testimony today on reports that James R. Hoffa kept on a local union's payroll some teamsters officials serving prison terms for extortion.

The story, as related by committee aides, involved teamster Local 614 at Pontiac, Mich., which they said Hoffa took over as trustee.

Details of a teamsters union loan to a Minneapolis department store and of Hoffa's own interest in a horse race betting partnership were other scheduled subjects of testimony as the committee continued its investigation into activities of the Midwest teamsters boss.

Hoffa has testified he draws $3,000 to $10,000 a year from betting on horse races in partnership with Owen Bert Brennan, a Detroit teamster official. Continued on Page 2

They were coming up behind me in Pontiac and they weren't even wearing ties. They tried to pass me on a curve. I was going about 60 miles an hour," the minister said in an interview.

Mr. Gagliardi, here to attend a Good Roads Association convention said the incident occurred last month when he was testing curves on a stretch of new B.C. highway between Savona and Kamloops.

Appeal to End Mob Violence Made by Ike to Arkansas

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower told the nation Tuesday night he was compelled to intervene with federal troops in the Arkansas integration crisis to uphold the law of the land against mob rule.

Eisenhower appealed to the people of Arkansas to help him end "extremist" resistance to allowing Negro children to attend Central High School in Little Rock. He said mob interference with a federal court's integration order was a blot on the nation's honor.

The chief executive was alternately praised and condemned for his use of federal troops—a seldom-invoked step that never before has been taken in the integration struggle.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the senate southern bloc, assailed the use of troops as "totalitarian." He predicted the president's order will have "a calamitous effect on race relations and on the cause of national unity."

A number of southern governors and political leaders, including so-called "moderates," expressed grave concern over the use of federal troops. Some denounced it as dictatorship.

Others expressed the view that Eisenhower had to send in the troops to prevent future defiance of the courts.

If Eisenhower was disturbed by the southern criticism he gave no outward sign during his 13-minute speech, delivered in a solemn and unsmiling manner.

In measured tones he outlined the seriousness of the Little Rock situation and said unless he had acted "anarchy would result."

Casting the crowds that blocked Negro attendance at school as "disorderly mobs" led by "demagogic extremists," the president declared:

"Mob rule cannot be allowed to override the decisions of our courts."

Eisenhower asserted the federal troops are not being used to "relieve local and state authorities of their primary duty to preserve peace and order."

He did not refer to Arkansas solely to prevent interference with the integration orders issued by federal Judge Ronald N. Davies.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who blocked school integration in Little Rock three weeks ago by ordering out the National Guard. But he said:

2 Jets Crash 2 Missing In War Game

LONDON (AP)—Two 1,000-mile-an-hour United States jet fighters collided before dawn over the North Atlantic today while taking part in NATO air-sea exercises.

Two other American planes carrying four men each were reported missing during an ocean search for marauding "enemy" submarines in the manoeuvres.

The single-seater F4D Sky Ray fighters were based on the U.S. carrier Saratoga while the other craft, S2F Trackers, were from the carrier Essex.

The carriers are part of a NATO "blue" striking force attacking an "orange" fleet of submarines and other "enemy" targets between Iceland and Norway.

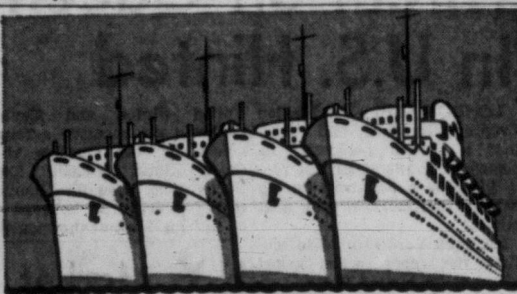

More than 100 ships and 700 aircraft, taking part in the seven-power Exercise Strikeback, broke up manoeuvres to search for survivors.

Imperial Oil Seeking Huge Tax Refund

TORONTO (CP)—The Star says Imperial Oil Limited is seeking in an appeal before the Exchequer Court of Canada a refund of $19,000,000 on income tax payments in the years 1951, 1952, and 1953.

The paper says the appeal is based on Imperial's claim for higher allowances in those years for depletion allowances granted all extraction industries.

"By forcing the oil companies to lump together their good producers along with their 'dry-hole' wells to arrive at the depletion figure, the large oil companies maintain, the tax legislation discriminates against producers who engage in extensive exploration for new wells, the Star says."

Brennan has been summoned as a witness.

Committee chairman John McClellan (Dem. Ark.) announced he has arranged for an independent doctor to check on what was tentatively diagnosed as a heart attack suffered by Benjamin Dranow. Dranow heads the John W. Dranow Department Store in Minneapolis, which allegedly received a $1,000,000 loan of teamster funds from Hoffa to help it ride out and recover from a strike by the Retail Clerks Union.

Dranow's own doctor has said that whether the store executive can appear as a witness will depend on the results of laboratory and clinical tests.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said he regards Dranow as "a vital witness" who will be called sooner or later to tell about the loan. Meantime, he said, testimony will be taken from others.

LEGITIMATE INVESTMENT

In Miami Beach, Fla., where he is campaigning for the union's international presidency, Hoffa described the loan as a perfectly legitimate investment of pension funds.

Hoffa took occasion also to challenge the committee's contention that he is not a legally qualified delegate to the union's convention opening Monday.

Easier Voting Proposal By Victoria Wins Support

By PETE LOUDON

Times Staff Reporter

NELSON—This pretty mountainside town, centre of the West Kootenay area, is bursting at the seams today with 620 delegates and guests to the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention. Ten hotels are wearing "no vacancy" signs and auto courts are filled for miles around.

Many of the 20-man Greater Victoria delegation are sharing rooms and rising early to join lineups at showers.

At its session this morning the convention upheld resolutions submitted by Victoria aimed at easing civic voting regulations.

The convention agreed to ask the provincial government to amend the Municipal Act so that persons omitted in error from voters lists may have their names restored by the returning officer at the polls.

The convention also supported elimination of a regulation requiring municipalities to mail notices to tenant elector and resident electors advising they must confirm voting qualification each year.

Municipal Affairs Minister Wesley Black addressing the convention said he does not accept the view that "more and more charges" should be transferred to the province from municipal budgets.

He said: "Provincial revenues, while being very large, are still not beyond our requirements, the assumption that the province can continue to absorb any amount of charges is entirely wrong."

"On any reasonable basis of comparison, the municipal taxpayers in B.C. fare much better than those of any other province, with the exception of the maritime provinces where the whole level of taxation is very much lower."

"I may say, therefore, that the government is not prepared to lightly give away the per diem charges paid by municipalities toward the operation of the hospitals."

In regard to the sharing of education costs, Mr. Black said the question is being reviewed once again to see whether the present plan implemented three years ago can be improved.

"Let us not forget," he said, "that it is the taxpayers of the province who will ultimately pay the price, whether the tax is levied by the municipality or the provincial government."

He said it was not the government's intention that any particular tax should be raised to unreasonable levels.

"But," he added, "the municipalities and the municipal councils should not try to shirk their responsibilities in this joint effort."

"We must all strive to utilize the various taxes under our respective jurisdictions so that no one tax will be carried beyond an equitable level in relation to the other taxes."

Minister Against Subsidized Teachers

Subsidized teacher training is not the best solution to the teacher shortage problem, in the opinion of Education Minister Leslie Peterson.

"If we fully subsidized teacher training we might get more students but I doubt if they would all be desirable additions to the profession," the minister told the B.C. School Trustees' Association convention Tuesday.

He was commenting on a financial assistance plan put forward by the trustees' teacher recruitment committee. Under this plan financial assistance would be shared by the provincial government and school boards.

"Last year," said the minister, "we gave $285,000 in student loans and bursaries. We would like to give enough money so anyone who wants to train as a teacher would not be denied the chance."

FULL ANSWER

"But I do not think fully subsidized teacher training is the full answer to the problem... we would also be taking many students away from other faculties. And other professions have just as great shortages as teaching."

W. H. Golby, chairman of Greater Victoria school board, urged that teacher recruitment be carried into the homes.

"Parents need to be convinced that teaching is a good profession for their children to enter," he said.

The convention passed a resolution asking the government to share in the cost of medical services plans now being written into teacher and lay staff contracts.

At present, in effect, these costs are carried entirely by the school boards.

ELECT OFFICERS

Lorne C. Aggett, Vancouver was elected president of the School Trustees Association in succession to A. W. Mercer of New Westminster.

P. M. Hopkins, Kitimat, was elected vice-president; Mrs. Marion Ricker, Nanaimo, was re-elected second vice-president, and Paul Rising, Vancouver, was re-appointed auditor.

Honorary officers are Education Minister Peterson and Dr. W. B. McKechnie, Armstrong. Delegates chose Kamloops as the site of the 1958 convention.

He told the students that neither they nor anyone else had anything to fear from his troops.

From outside, the school appeared completely quiet.

There were no parents this time, nor any adults, trying to get through the line of soldiers.

People in Little Rock with children who attend the school said there appeared to be an organized campaign Tuesday night to keep as many as possible from going there today.

"I had a half dozen calls from people telling me not to show up today," a student said. "I told them I did not know what I would do."

"They said: 'There's going to be trouble. It won't be safe there today.'"

The student, a girl, said she understood some of her friends were going to wait until noon and then, depending on the situation, go to school in the afternoon.

It was supremely quiet. But among the people nearby—many of whom had been dispersed by the troops—was heard, over and over again:

"Let 'em do what they want now. But they can't keep those soldiers here indefinitely and the minute they're gone you'll see..."
